CONGRESS.

No Pension for Mrs. Farragut—South Carolina Contested Election Case—Appropriation Bills.

WASHINGTON, April 11, 1872.

SENATE.

REMOVAL OF POLITICAL DISABILITIES.

Mr. DAVIS, of West Virginia, presented a resolution of the West Virginia Constitutional Convention, in favor of the immediate removal of all political disabilities in the State.

NO PENSION FOR MRS. FARRAGUT.

Mr. EDMUNDS, from the Committee on Pensions, reported adversely the bill granting a pension of two thousand dollars a year to the widow of Admiral Farragut.

RAILROAD CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

Messrs. Howe, Hamlin and Stevenson were appointed the second committee of conference on the Bayfield and St. Croix Railroad bill.

AMNESTY.

Mr. HILL introduced a bill to remove political disabilities from a Mr. Forbes, of Georgia.

Mr. TRUMBULL proposed to offer the general amnesty bill as an amendment. As objection was made, the bill was laid upon the table.

TAX REBATE ON DISTILLED SPIRITS.

Mr. SHERMAN, from the Committee on Finance, reported a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to allow a rebate of taxes paid on distilled spirits destroyed in bonded warehouses by the Chicago fire and other fires since January, 1868, and moved its passage, but it giving rise to debate, it went over.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR PENSIONS.

By Mr. VICKERS, amending the war of 1812 pension act of the 14th of February, 1871, by striking out the proviso of its first section relating to the remarriage of widows, and extending the benefits of the act to females who married officers, soldiers and sailors within three years after the treaty of peace.

CONTESTED ELECTION.

At the close of the morning hour, the North Carolina Senatorial election case was taken up.

Mr. LOGAN called up the resolution reported by the majority of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, as follows:

Resolved, That Joseph C. Abbott, not having received a majority of the votes cast by the North Carolina Legislature on the second Tuesday of November, 1870, for the office of Senator of the United States, is not entitled to a seat as such Senator.

Mr. LOGAN argued at length in support of the resolution.

CONSULAR AND DIPLOMATIC APPROPRIATION BILL.

At the conclusion of Mr. Logan's remarks, Mr. CARPENTER got the floor, but yielded to Mr. Cole, on whose motion the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill was taken up.

An amendment was adopted providing that hereafter no allowance shall be made to any consular or diplomatic officer after the termination of his official functions other than for the time necessarily occupied in his direct return to the United States.

On motion of Mr. STEWART, an amendment was adopted making the interpreter of the American legation in Japan also Secretary of Legation, and giving him additional compensation of $2,500 per annum. The bill was passed.

The Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

BILLS PASSED.

On motion of Mr. WILSON of the Committee on Agriculture, a bill was passed extending the time for providing for an agricultural college in Indiana to the first of March, 1873.

Also, to prevent cruelty to animals in transit by railroads and other means of transportation, by prohibiting the confinement of animals in cars, &c., more than twenty-four hours continuously, after which time they are to have five hours for rest, for food and water.

PLANTING TREES.

Mr. HALDEMAN, of the same committee, reported a bill to encourage the planting of trees and for the preservation of wood on the public domain, requiring all patents for lands to be on condition of keeping ten per cent. of the land in timber; also, of planting two acres with timber trees for every acre from which timber is cut.

Mr. Haldeman proceeded to explain and advocate the bill till the morning hour, when the bill went over till Monday next.

APPROPRIATION BILL.

The Senate amendments to the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill came up in Committee of the Whole.

Debate on the Senate amendment appropriating $50,000 to enable the President to perfect and put in force such rules for regulating the civil service as from time to time be adopted by the President, was resumed.

Mr. SARGENT opposed the amendment, and remarked that some members would support it lest the defeat of it might be made use of at the Cincinnati Convention. He took no counsel from his enemies. He took none from traitors. The administration of Gen. Grant would be judged by its great success, by its reduction of the debt to the amount of nearly three hundred millions dollars, and by the economy that has penetrated every department. The administration had made itself illustrious by restoring peace throughout the South, and by the reduction of the national debt. The Republican party would succeed at the next Presidential election, not by inscribing on its banner the mere words "civil service reform," but by pointing to the real civil service reform wrought by the administration.

Mr. SHANKS characterized the civil service reform and the abolition of the franking privilege as two specimens of regular western humbuggery.

Mr. POTTER reminded Mr. Shanks that the civil service reform movement had been inaugurated by the President, and the abolition of the franking privilege by the Postmaster General, one of the President's constitutional advisers.

Discussion was further continued by Messrs. Holman, Wakeman, Kellogg, of Connecticut, Connell, Stevenson and Perry, of Ohio—the two latter in favor of the amendment.

Mr. BUTLER (Mass.) opposed it, and declared the movement to have been a shrewd political trick to put the President in a position where, if he did not inaugurate it, he would be attacked, and if he did, it would be a failure. The thing had sprung from the late turned-out Secretary of the Interior.

Mr. STEVENSON remarked that Mr. Butler attributed too much honor to the late Secretary.

Mr. BUTLER—It came from there and will end there. It began in Cincinnati, and will end in Cincinnati.

The discussion was closed and the amendment offered by Mr. Sargent to reduce the appropriation to $10,000 was adopted—92 to 59.

The next important amendment on the bill was that for the extension of the capital grounds north and south, the estimate of the cost being about $500,000.

Mr. GARFIELD, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, explained the whole subject, and stated that the committee recommended non-concurrence, not merely as a formal matter, but as an expression of the sentiment of the House, so that when the matter went to the Conference Committee the House conferees might understand the wish of the House.

After discussion the Senate amendment was amended by limiting the amount to $400,000, and by requiring the removal within six months of the locomotive and railroad track in front of the Capital. As thus amended the Senate amendment was concurred in.

The next important amendment was one increasing the salaries of the Assistant Secretary and the officers of the several executive departments to $4,000, and of the Judges of the Court of Claims to $5,000, and of the United States District Judge to $5,000. The amendment was rejected.

PRINTING LAWS.

The Committee then rose, and Mr. BUTLER (Mass.) raised the point of order that the amendment forbidding the publication of laws in newspapers differed in the printed bill from the exact words in the engrossed bill.

The Speaker succeeded in disentangling this parliamentary snare, and then the votes on the various amendments went over till to-morrow.

REPORT ON DR. HOWARD'S CASE.

Mr. BANKS presented a report in the case of Dr. Howard. Ordered printed.

RAILWAY CONFERENCE REPORT.

Mr. KETCHUM gave notice that he would present, on Tuesday next, the conference report on the St. Croix & Lake Superior Railroad bill.

Adjourned.

CINCINNATI.

Suits Against National Bank s Withdrawn.

CINCINNATI, April 11.—Attorney General Pond, of Ohio, has withdrawn his suit, commenced a few days ago, against the First and Second National Banks of Hamilton, Ohio, and their Directors for receiving, as was alleged, money connected with the Lindley Treasury defalcation, he having received the certificate from the State Auditor that the representation concerning the indebtedness of the county to the State was untrue, and it is understood that the Commissioners had withdrawn from the Prosecuting Attorney the power to prosecute such actions in behalf of the county by direction of the Governor. The Governor revoked the authority heretofore given to prosecute the suits, and asked that the action begun might be dismissed without prejudice. It is said that nearly all the business men and manufacturers of Hamilton joined in the statement of the facts which formed a basis for this action of the Attorney General.

MEMPHIS.

City Stock Attached—Gas Explosion.

MEMPHIS, April 11.—Brown & Co., Nicholson pavement contractors, have attached the city stock in the Water Works Company under a judgment recently obtained against the city.

GAS EXPLOSION.

Just before noon, to-day, a terrific explosion occurred in the cellar of a clothing house of Johnson & Vance, under the Peabody Hotel, caused by a leaking gas pipe. The clerk went into the cellar with a light to ascertain the cause, when an explosion followed. Two men who were standing on the iron plates in front of the door were blown into the air, falling back into the cellar among the debris, but fortunately escaped unhurt. The explosion badly frightened the inmates of the adjoining stores and hotel. The damage is insignificant.

—The shocks in Inyo county, California, continue with loud reports as of cannon proceeding from the summit of Mount Breckenridge. Since the first shock, which was felt from Oregon to Central America, the disturbances were purely local, and were not felt west of the Sierra Nevadas or out of Inyo county.

NEW YORK.

Beecher and the "Liberals"—Impeachment of Judges Demanded—The First Colored Judge in New Jersey—The Erie Railroad—M. E. Conference.

NEW YORK, April 11, 1872.

THE ERIE RAILROAD.

Gen. Sickles states that he received information that the recent suits brought against Jay Gould and Lane were filed to prevent the company from compromising with and releasing them from future litigation; but no complaint was entered, and the counsel of the Erie Company considers such action untenable. The report that seven-eighths of the Erie stock is owned by the Bischoffsheim party is discredited by Sickles, who states that the new American director, Mr. Green, owns ten million dollars, a number of other Americans as much more, and other parties in Germany, Russia, and Holland, associated in the new movement, $28,000,000. Sickles states that the Heath and Raphael party, having failed to obtain a majority of the stock, have abandoned all attempts to control the road. Gen. Diven, Vice President of Erie, is virtual President, other duties of Gen. Dix claiming his chief attention.

BEECHER AND THE "LIBERALS."

The Tribune says: Nothing that has been said in favor of the Cincinnati movement has been more cordial than the language of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher at the Grant meeting last evening. The masses applauded, but the managers looked aghast. He said: "Like unto the Moabite King to an impracticeable prospect, I took thee to curse mine enemies; behold thou hast blessed them altogether."

IMPEACHMENT OF JUDGES DEMANDED.

The World calls for the immediate impeachment of Judges Cardozo and Barnard, and hopes that the Legislature will not attempt to go through the process of removing them, but put them upon trial, as the most practical way of disposing of their cases.

FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.

The tug boat Davenport, having in tow four canal boats, exploded her boiler when opposite the Cunard steamship docks, in Jersey City. S. Dexter, engineer, C. Snyder and others were injured. Captain J. Cox, of the Davenport, is missing. He is supposed to be killed.

FIRST COLORED JUSTICE IN NEW JERSEY.

At the charter election in Jersey City, yesterday, a colored man named Aldridge polled next to the highest vote cast, and is one of the four Justices of the Peace elected. This is the first colored justice ever elected in New Jersey.

GREELEY'S SUPPORTERS.

At a meeting of the Central Club of the Irish American Reform League, held last evening, measures were taken to organize throughout the city. The special object of the League is to further the nomination of Horace Greeley for President.

THE WESTFIELD SLAUGHTER.

A committee of citizens yesterday waited on the District Attorney to see what the delay was in the proceedings against Jacob Vanderbilt and his engineer, under indictment for the Westfield manslaughter.

M. E. CONFERENCE.

At a meeting of the New York Methodist Episcopal Conference to-day, the only business of note done was to order that all dwellings given to superannuated clergymen shall at their death revert to the Conference.

THE ALLEGED BLACKMAILER.

Emma R. Couch, the alleged blackmailer, was brought before Judge Bedford to-day on a bench warrant. Miss Couch was not represented by counsel, and, on the application of the District Attorney, was committed to prison to await trial.

PREPONDERANCE OF ANTI-TWEED CANDIDATES.

There was a heavy preponderance in the election of anti-Tweed candidates at the Tammany primaries yesterday.

GEORGIA BONDS INVESTIGATION.

The Georgia Legislative Committee resumed to-day the investigation of the alleged frauds of Governor Bullock in the Georgia State bonds.

STRICKEN FROM LIST OF RAILWAY STOCKS.

The Stock Exchange to-day ordered the Reading Railroad stock to be stricken from the list, and prohibited dealing in it by the board.

ARRIVED.

The steamer St. Laurent, from Brest, has arrived.

POLITICAL.

Speech of Governor B. Gratz Brown in Topeka, Kansas.

ST. LOUIS, April 11.—The Republican prints the speech of Governor Brown, made in the Liberal Republican Convention at Topeka last night. Governor Brown boldly avows the rebellious character of the Cincinnati movement, and says that instead of evading challenges, he rebukes it for its irregularity. It does not pretend to be a copy of its rival at Philadelphia, or elsewhere. Speaking of the cause that has produced this revolt in the dominant party, he says: "Ours is no longer a government of the co-ordinate branches, each independent and a check upon the other, as our fathers framed it; but within the structure has been established another government, intangible to law, and merging all departments into one. It will be known as the party, and within that party has been erected a despotism ruling all its membership to its own ordering, and known as Executive favor." The speech is defiant in its assault upon the attitude, policy and character of the administration party, and gives some idea of the nature of the phrases of the campaign for its overthrow about to be inaugurated.

General Cheatham a Candidate for Governor of Tennessee.

MEMPHIS, April 11.—General Frank Cheatham announces himself in the morning papers as a candidate for Governor, subject to the Democratic State Convention.

National Colored Convention.

NEW ORLEANS, April 11.—The National Colored Convention Committee on permanent organization reported, naming Fred Douglass for President, J. H. Ingraham for First Vice President, and George T. Ruby for Secretary. Mr. Rapier, of Alabama, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That we, in the name of the colored people of the United States, repudiate any sympathy with the late Labor Reform Convention held at Columbus, Ohio, and also the Convention of Liberal Republicans for the first of May at Cincinnati.

Referred to Committee on Resolutions.

Mr. Haratson said there were but two political parties in this country—the Republican and the Democratic. The Cincinnati Convention was a Democratic Convention.

Lieutenant Governor Finchback opposed the passage of the resolution, as it carried on its face the condemnation of Charles Sumner. He (Pinchback) would remain here in the Convention a long time before his voice should be raised to condemn Mr. Sumner.

SELECTIONS.

TEXAS has copper and silver ore in practically inexhaustible quantities, and coal which rivals the best anthracite of Pennsylvania. These minerals are to be found in the region known as the Staked Plains, in the northwestern and other portions of the State.

THE gallery of the Luxemburg, at Paris, has been closed to allow of the removal of certain pictures belonging to Napoleon, which the Government has consented to have sent to him. On account of this change a general moving of the pictures has been ordered.

MRS. NEWTON, of Bernard Castle, England, the other day, cooked some potatoes for dinner which she had previously purchased in market. Previous to her eating her dinner she put her knife into one, and found, much to her astonishment and disgust, a small frog embodied in the center of it.

THE Lutherans have for four years not only had deaconesses, but also institutions established with special reference to them, the first of which was formed in 1836. There are now forty-five, and the number of deaconesses is twenty-five hundred. Only one of these institutions is in this country.

THE Empress of Brazil has taken a little girl ten years old, named Desiree, from the Foundling Hospital in Paris. Her intelligence and gentility struck her, and the Emperor adopted the little girl. She will become a senora de algo, as they say in Brazil.

EX-GOVERNOR WASHBURN, Collector of Portland, Me., formally opened the new Custom House on Tuesday night, by inviting the Board of Trade and other guests to inspect it. The Collector stated that the building is the handsomest in the country, able to accomodate as much business as even the largest, and it has cost but $500,000.

AN English gentleman has leased a water lot in Pilatka, Fla., for ten years, with the design of putting up a moss and paper factory. The moss will be manipulated into such things as hair cloths, etc. The paper mill is intended to manufacture paper out of the common saw palmetto. Paper made out of this material is now used by the Bank of England for bank notes.

A SON of Brigham Young, in response to a Gentile inquiry, admitted that the young Mormon women undoubtedly objected to the fractional husband system; but he said: "They have to marry somebody, and, if they choose a married man, they save themselves the pang which they would afterwards experience if they took a single man and he afterwards married again."

THE Rigsdag of Denmark closed its sittings at Copenhagen on March 23d, after a session of more than five months. Very little has been done, and a new Conservative Cabinet will probably be formed on the King's return from Italy. The resignation of the Minister of Finances, C. E. Fenger, has been accepted by the Crown Prince in the name of the King, and Count Holstein, the President of the Council of Minsters, appointed ad interim.

OPERA-GOERS will hear with interest that Miss Clara Louise Kellogg sails next Saturday for England to fill a spring and summer engagement with Mr. Mapleson at Drury Lane. They will be still more interested to know that she returns in September to sing in Italian opera under the management of Mr. Max Maretzek, who also promises us Ilma de Mirska and Mlle. Lucca, which looks as if the new style of powerful combination was to obtain next season.

WE ARE not surprised to learn from Chicago that there are rumors of a change in the conduct of affairs in the Rev. Charles Edward Cheney's church, and that many members are dissatisfied with their present ostracism, and desire to restore the church to its standing in the diocese. It is further said that the recent election of the vestry did not fully sustain the Cheney party. The chief wonder is that such a result should not have been foreseen from the outset of the contest.

THE report of M. De Lesseps on the present condition of the Suez Canal states that all work on the canal has been completed, and that there is a minimum depth throughout of 26 feet 2 inches. Steamers of 2,500 tons pass without difficulty, and one American steamer of 3,000 tons has gone through. These passages have quieted all apprehensions, and the largest merchant vessels are now freighted to go to Asia via the canal, which may, therefore, be set down as a success.

MR. WILLIAM A. FORD, of Caroline County, Md., has a pet lamb that goes rabbit-hunting—that is, he follows the dogs to the woods, and, when they strike the trail he follows in pursuit, and seems to enjoy the fun as much as the hounds themselves. The lamb is not always successful in keeping up with his swift-footed companions, and sometimes he is left behind and gets lost. When this occurs he loiters about, stops at some of the neighbors, and finally works his way home again.

THE Henderson, Ky., Reporter has the following account of a distressing accident: Miss Hester Langley, aged about fourteen, daughter of Mr. Samuel W. Langley, died very suddenly at the residence of Mr. John McBride, in this city, on Monday morning last, while under the influence of chloroform. The young lady was under treatment for a diseased eye, and, we understand, just before the operation was to be performed on the eye by Dr. Thompson she was induced by her sister to inhale chloroform, which had the fatal result stated above.

THE Governor of California has signed the bill requiring plaintiffs in libel suits against newspapers and others to give security in the sum of $500 for costs. The bill was asked for by the entire press of the State, and its passage will have a tendency to check a very injurious class of litigation, some of which was purely malicious and much merely speculative. No meritorious action will be hindered by the new law, while black-mailing principals, and attorneys who live upon champerty, will be checked in their pernicious career.—San Francisco Chronicle.

THE Tichborne claimant in Newgate is in a common cell, in which but one change has been made. Owing to the prisoner's weight, a wooden bedstead has been substituted for the usual hammock. The only persons allowed to see him are the jail officers and his lawyer. Like any other prisoner, he is allowed to have meals from outside, but he is not permitted to have stimulants. The guest of New York City, Mr. Stokes, is in jail for murder, but his apartment is luxuriously furnished, and the little levees and dinners he gives to his friends are among the daintiest of entertainments.

RHODE ISLAND very quietly elected a State ticket and Legislature yesterday. Seth Padelford, Republican, was chosen Governor by a majority of 1,157. The present Lieutenant Governor, Pardon W. Stevens, was defeated for re-election by a local quarrel, which cost him 950 votes. The remainder of the Republican State ticket was elected and the Legislature is, as usual, overwhelmingly Republican. There is no Senator to elect from Rhode Island this year, and no special outside issues entered into the canvass which has just been so peacefully concluded.—New York Tribune.

ON the 2d inst., at two o'clock, a duel with small swords was fought at the "fortification," on the Gentilly road, near New Orleans, between Mr. P. Bechtel (employed in the Custom House) and —— Joubert (son of —— Joubert, United States Assessor), both gentlemen of color. After fighting about ten minutes, during which several thrusts were made and parried, Mr. Bechtel was struck in the breast, but fortunately, the weapon lodging in the collar-bone, what what might have been his death-blow, resulted in only a slight wound, whereupon the seconds interfered, and all parties returned to the city.

THE way in which the Mexican-American Commission has dragged its slow length along has excited much comment. It is now claimed that the fault is with the umpire of the Commission, Dr. Francis Lieber. If half the reports concerning him are true, old age has effectually sapped his powers. His rulings are said to be in constant defiance of common sense and law, and so conflicting that many lawyers have abandoned their cases in disgust. It must be remembered that these charges probably come from aggrieved citizens, whose claims have been ignored or finally rejected, so that they must be taken cum grano salis.

WM. WOOD, of Fort Erie, has accepted a challenge from the Brooklyn Aquatic Society to swim from Buffalo lighthouse to Windmill Point a distance of 6 miles. The acceptor will choose his own day. The swimming will probably come off about the 4th of July. If accomplished it will be one of the greatest feats in the swimming line. Not only is the distance the greatest ever attempted, but the current from Lake Erie, setting into the Niagara, renders the task one of extreme difficulty. Mr. Wood stipulates that no boat shall at any time be within 100 yards of him, and that he shall take his own time to perform the feat.

THE laborers' strike in Warwickshire still goes on. The farmers are willing to give an advance of half what is asked, but only to non-union men. They fear the union, as the men, by organizing at a critical time, might put them to a great loss. The men refuse to give in, and a general turnout by the masters is anticipated. Prof. Fawcett and Mr. Auberon Herbert, M. P., are helping the men by collecting subscriptions, and it is anticipated that the trade's unions will also give great help. The laborers' union now numbers twenty-four branches and about two thousand members. The agitation has extended into six adjoining counties.

AMONG the specimens of rare plants to be seen in Jackson Square, New Orleans, is a cluster of ramie, consisting of several hundred stems, now about two feet high. Fifteen months ago one small root was placed in the ground where it now is, and has since grown to its present huge dimensions, being about ten or twelve feet in circumference. Without artificial aid it grew last year twelve feet high, and so rank that the city gardener thought proper to tie it up with ropes, so as to prevent the stems from falling to the ground and again taking root to the exclusion of all other vegetation. The plant has stood the test of two severe winters, and bids fair to survive, green and flourishing, for many years to come.

THE treasures of Notre Dame, Paris, which already comprise a number of precious objects, are about to be increased by the addition of a veritable historical relic in the form of the cassock worn by Monseigneur Darboy on the day of his death. It is a violet vestment, well worn, stained with dirt and blood, and showing distinctly the marks of bullets. The curious who visit the church of Notre Dame may now see the cassocks of the three Archbishops of Paris who died by assassination—of Monseigneur Affre, killed on the barricade of St. Antoine; of Monseigneur Sibour, killed in the church of St. Etienne du Mont, and of Monseigneur Darboy, killed by the Communists in the prison of La Roquette.

Mount Washington in Winter.

[From the Philadelphia Bulletin.]

UNITED STATES OBSERVATORY, Mt. Washington, N. H., April 1, 1872.—To the Editor of the Evening Bulletin: If you will allow me a small space in your valuable paper, I will endeavor to furnish the readers of it with an account of the winter on the summit of Mt. Washington. Although I did not arrive myself until February 28th, 1872, I must say that I experienced enough of it to know full well what it is. I was ordered from Washington, February 24th, to report to Sergeant Martin L. Hearn, Observer, Signal Service, U. S. A., as an Assistant, (which position I held in Philadelphia, from May 1871, until February 1872), to relieve Wm. Stevens, who was suddenly taken sick. Before I could reach my destination I heard with regret of his death, without a surgeon, or kind friends to cheer his last moments. There was with him only his solitary companion, Sergeant Hearn. Your readers may imagine, better than I can describe, how the Sergeant must have felt for two days alone with a corpse, as no one could get near him, on account of the severe cold and violent winds that were at the time prevailing.

I made the ascent from the base in three hours and a half, accompanied by Benjamin Kilbourn, Esq., the well known mountaineer photographer of Littleton, N. H. with five other stalwart mountaineers, who went with the kind impulse to take down the body for burial. I will describe the manner in which they accomplished it. They formed a plain box of some boards into a sort of sleigh, with four handles, one on each side, to hold back or push, as it might be most convenient.

Allow me also to furnish you with a small account of the manner in which we live. We occupy the depot of the Mountain Railroad, in which we have two rooms partitioned off (10 by 12), securely chained to the rocks, so that the wind may not blow us away. One we use as a kitchen and dining-room, and the other as parlor, bed and dressing room. We also occupy the latter office, in which we keep our barometer and telegraphic instruments, the wire connecting with Littleton N. H., by which means we are not wholly excluded from civilization, although I must admit that visitors are very few—not one since my glorious ascent.

We generally supply ourselves in September with canned provisions sufficient to last throughout the winter, reckoning at the same time to give our visitors a square meal when they come. Our time we must occupy chiefly by reading and studying, for our outdoor amusements are very scarce. In case we do have the pleasure of going outside to ramble amid the snow and ice on the rocks, we are obliged to take advantage of the same, and exercise ourselves by hauling ice, frostwork and snow, so that we may procure the water necessary for our cooking and drinking purposes, as the weather is very severe on the summit, the thermometer since my arrival having been most of the time below zero, and the wind at a hurricane.

I will give you a small idea how we felt, the thermometer standing forty-nine degrees below zero, and the wind raging at the rate of a hundred miles per hour. The cold weather which I have reference to occurred on the 5th of March, and the mode we adopted to keep ourselves warm was to bring all the coats and overcoats into requisition during the day, with two large coal fires continually burning. At night we took advantage of our "little bed" (which is not a bad one), with covering enough to suffocate any man in ordinary winter weather, and then, I must confess, we suffered with the cold. It was the coldest time that my comrade and I ever experienced. We do not mind during the day the thermometer, standing ten below zero, if the wind does not blow too hard, for then we can have a little holiday by going outside. But at night, unless the wind is blowing at least sixty miles an hour, we cannot sleep well, for we are too accustomed to hurricanes.

With kind regards to the numerous readers of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, I will close, willing at any time, as far as I am capable, to give them further details of the summit of Mount Washington, Respectfully,

ROBERT J. BELL,
Assistant Observer, U. S. A.

CAIRO.

Another Horror!

A STEAMBOAT BLOWN UP!

Burning of the Wreck!

HEARTRENDING SCENES!

Sixty-six Lives Lost!

CAIRO, ILL., April 11.—The steamer Oceanus, Red River to St. Louis, when near Brooks Point, thirty miles above Cairo, at 4 A. M., exploded her boiler, blowing the upper works almost entirely away, immediately after which the wreck took fire, burning to the water's edge. Pilot Thompson, of the steamer Jno. Lumsden, lying a few miles below, on seeing the light from the burning wreck, manned a yawl and proceeded up the river to ascertain the cause. He found a small party of survivors on Head Island. He passed on to relieve those on the wreck. Ten or twelve were clinging to the wheel, but the wheel dropped before he reached them, and all but four were lost. He found a deck passenger, name unknown, near the shore, badly scalded, who died before he arrived at Cairo.

The steamer Belle St. Louis, bound up, took nearly all the survivors. Thompson rescued Pilot Harris, who subsequently went to St. Louis on the Marble City. Mr. Latter states that Wiggins, the Red river pilot, was drowned. Harry Triff, the pilot on watch, and also Capt. Reeder were burned in the debris, and were heard calling for help, but the fire had gained such headway that they could not be reached and were burned. Fisher, the carpenter of the ill-fated steamer, reached here on the Shreve. He was not seriously hurt. He states that the second engineer, Alexander Kennedy, was terribly scalded, and was helpless and blind. Fisher put him on a stage plank with other passengers, which soon capsized, drowning several, including Kennedy. Geo. Keithley, the first engineer, is supposed to be lost. Henry Worsham, first clerk, was not seen after the explosion. He expected to go through from Cairo by rail, but was seen on the boat after leaving here. Charles Worsham, second clerk, Jules Dempwolf, steward, and Charley Muvay, cabin boy, were found dead, floating in the river, all with life preservers on, and were brought here by the steamer Shreve. It is supposed they were chilled to death.

There were five lady passengers. All are supposed to be lost. The bodies of five ladies were seen floating past Washer's landing to-day. Fisher thinks Pilot Harris and himself are the only employes that were saved, though the Belle St. Louis may have picked up some. The officers of the St Louis state that there were about thirty cabin and thirty-five deck passengers, making, with the crew, nearly one hundred souls, about eighty of whom are supposed to be lost.

The greater portion of the survivors being on the Belle St. Louis, no names of the passengers nor reliable estimate of the lost can be obtained except from here. Fisher describes the effect of the explosion as terrific beyond conception, the whole upper works being lifted bodily and falling on the boats in the water, which were completely shattered. He saved himself by securing a plank and floating until rescued by the yawl of Thompson. He was in bed at the time, and though covered with debris, was only slightly bruised.

Later.—The steamer Grand Tower, just arrived, reports the first engineer and mate saved; also thirty-two other persons on the Belle St. Louis. The second engineer was saved, but died of his injuries.

ST. LOUIS, April 11.—The Democrat's Cairo special relative to the explosion of the steamer Oceanus, says Fisher, the carpenter, describes the scene as very terrible and heartrending. The river around the wreck was covered with debris—baggage, bed clothing, beds, &c., much of it burning. The cabin and about half of the deck had floated off, and was burning. The Captain, in the midst of the fire, was screaming for help. Men and women in the water were throwing up their hands and sinking to rise no more. Six or eight persons were on the forecastle, and Fisher got a stage-plank, and all except himself got upon it, but as soon as it struck the water the plank careened and all upon it perished.

THE CAPITAL.

Sales of Arms Investigation—The Case of Dr. Howard—Tariff and Internal Revenue Bills Consolidated—Unappraised Goods.

WASHINGTON, April 11, 1872.

CONSOLIDATED BILLS.

The Committee of Ways and Means voted to put the Tariff bill and Internal Revenue bill together. Mr. Dawes, the Chairman, refuses to report the bill, as his vote is with the minority. Either Finkelnburg or Burchard will probably report the bill. It will not be reported before Monday next.

SALES OF ARMS INVESTIGATION.

The Senate Arms Committee met this morning. Secretary Boutwell recalled, and testified that he had held conversations with the Marquis de Chambrun in relation to a letter of Remington to Lecesne; had a conversation with Chambrun some weeks ago on the subject of the preamble to Senator Sumner's resolution. In that conversation the Marquis said the letter which he understood to be the Remington letter was not delivered to Sumner by him, and then stated how it was given to Rumner. He said he gave it to Senator Patterson to show to the President, and Patterson gave it to Sumner.

By Schurz—Did he say Patterson gave to Sumner the letter or its contents? Answer—My recollection is he said Patterson gave the letter, or a copy of it to Sumner.

By Schurz—Did he not further state, as appears from his testimony, that he communicated the letter first to Senator Patterson, and that Patterson gave the contents to Sumner before Chambrun had any conversation with Sumner about it? Answer—My recollection is that he said Patterson gave the letter or a copy of it to Sumner.

The chairman said the committee would close the testimony with that of the Secretary of War, the two clerks of the War Department and Representative Starkweather, in whose presence it was said by Chambrun that the letter of Belknap to Fish had been read, and also that of Colonel Benet and Mrs. Mason, in case she could be found.

The committee adjourned until Monday.

UNAPPRAISED GOODS.

The Treasury Department has construed the act of July 14, 1870, in regard to goods being sent forward to certain interior ports without appraisement so as hereafter to require only the production of the invoice showing the destination of the goods to be for an interior port, or in the absence of the invoice showing such destination, the production of the bill of lading and manifest showing such destination. This will in most cases relieve importers from the necessity of producing the bill of lading before making the entry of goods.

THE CASE OF DR. HOWARD.

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs agreed to report the following: "That in the judgment of this House said John Emilo Howard was and is a citizen of the United States by birth and continued and uninterrupted choice, and as such is entitled to all and every protection from this Government, and in the opinion of this House the President should promptly demand his unconditional release and the restoration of his property, which has been confiscated to the Spanish Government."

THE CHICAGO RELIEF BILL.

The Secretary of the Treasury to-day issued instructions to the various Collectors of Customs to carry out the provisions of the Chicago relief bill.

CANADA.

SPEECH OF HON. WM. M'DOUGALL.

TORONTO, April 11.—Hon. Wm. McDougall addressed his constituents at Aemonte last night. He condemned the scheme of the Pacific Railway now being carried out by the Canadian Government as involving an enormous expenditure, and said a better route would have been to have relied on water communication by Lake Superior; thence by American railways to Red river; thence by steamboat down that river to Fort Garry and Lake Winnepeg. By this plan, Canada would have had steam communication with the north-west at very little expense.

He next referred to the treaty of Washington. It was just possible that Great Britain and the United States might continue to differ about the construction of the treaty, in which case Canada would not be called on to take any action with regard to it; but recent information seemed to indicate that the difference would be settled, and that therefore the matter would come before our Parliament. It would be a fatal mistake for our Parliament to refuse to confirm the treaty to which the head of the Government had attached his signature. If the Dominion remains a part and parcel of the British empire, we must submit to the consequences of that position, and be ready to do our part towards carrying out the arrangements that may have been entered into by the mother country and other foreign countries. We cannot remain as a part of the empire and act as an independent nation. We must be willing to allow the imperial government, in its dealings with the United States or other foreign countries, to make such bargains as in their wisdom and in accordance with the public opinion of the Empire, it may find necessary, and we must acquiesce like good subjects and put up with the consequence.

He was quite ready to discuss the propriety of a political change if it was found that our position was an embarrassment to ourselves and to the mother country. He was quite prepared to consider what was the best, wisest and safest course for us to take. But in Parliament they could not discuss this question. They must there deal with things as they were. They must recognize Canada as a part of the British Empire.

McDougall argued that the maritime provinces were satisfied with the fishery clauses, and it was not for Ontario to raise a disturbance about it. He considered that the importance of the concession made to the United States in this matter had been greatly over-rated.

As to the navigation of the St. Lawrence, he held that it would be an advantage to Canada to allow Americans equal rights on it, and that in point of international law they were entitled to it any way. He argued that the Imperial Government was alone responsible for the treaty, and in attacking it we were attacking them. He dilated at some length on the advantages of the treaty, dwelling chiefly on the argument that its adoption would be a guarantee of peace with the United States and would remove many irritating causes which now existed, and which might at any time lead to serious complications.

MEETING OF PARLIAMENT.

The fifth and last session of the Dominion Parliament opened here to-day, with more than the usual display. The Governor General, having taken his seat on the throne, delivered his speech. After speaking on various subjects he said: "A copy of the Washington treaty will be laid before the House, and so much of the papers and completed correspondence as can be made public without injury to the interests of the empire or of Canada will also at once be submitted for your information, and your attention invited to this important subject."

GREAT BRITAIN.

O'CONNOR'S TRIAL.

LONDON, April 11.—The case of O'Connor, the assailant of the Queen, came up this morning. The prisoner made an ineffectual attempt to withdraw his plea of guilty to the charge with mitigating grounds of insanity. A jury was impanneled to inquire into the mental condition of the prisoner. O'Connor's father was sworn, and in his defense testified that he (the father) was a nephew of Feargus O'Connor; that several members of his family, besides the prisoner, were insane. The accused, he stated, was very studious when a child, and fell into bad health, from which he had suffered ever since. He was wounded in the head in 1866, and received injuries which rendered him insensible for some time. The witness further testified that his son was never connected with any political association.

DIPLOMATIC DINNER.

At the dinner given by Minister Schenck last evening, there were present, among others, the Russian, Prussian and Austrian Ministers, Oftenberg, the newly appointed Russian Minister to the United States, Chichester Fortesque, Sir Charles Bowyer, Odderly, and Sir Curtis Sampson.

LONDON, April 11.—The trial of O'Connor ended to-day. The jury was satisfied as to the sanity of the prisoner, and brought in a verdict of guilty. O'Connor was then sentenced to be imprisoned twelve months at hard labor and to receive twenty lashes.

MEXICO.

TELEGRAPHIC COMMUNICATION RE-ESTABLISHED.

NEW YORK, April 11.—A special dispatch from Matamoras says that telegraphic communication with Reynosa has been re-established, which shows that the revolutionists are not approaching from that direction. Palacios is not enforcing the blockade of the Rio Grande.

STEAMER EXPECTED.

Cevallor wrote to Palacios from Vera Cruz, on the 3d inst., as follows: "The steamer City of Merida expects to be at the mouth of the river on the 8th or 9th inst. I shall be at the mouth of the river on the 10th inst."

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED.

General Palalois has issued a proclamation declaring the city of Reynosa in a state of siege. He prohibits vessels either ascending or descending the Rio Grande at any point within twelve miles of the city fortifications unless by a special permit of the Mexican authorities. He does not wish to interfere with the interests of citizens of the United States or insult the national dignity. As General McCook protested against this, however, the Mexican commander will not attempt to enforce the obnoxious provisions of the proclamation so far as they affect American citizens or ships protected by the American flag.

FRANCE.

THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE.

PARIS, April 11.—Casimer Perier has declined to accept the Ministry of Finance. It is now probable that there will be no change in the Cabinet for some time.

REPORT DENIED.

There is no truth in the report that Rouher took three millions of francs to ex-Emperor Napoleon when at Chiselhurst.

JAMAICA.

WHOLESALE MASSACRE.

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, April 11.—A revolution has broken out in St. Marc, Hayti. The troops were massacreing the insurgents by wholesale. Citizens of the United States were protected by the French Consul.

Female Preponderance in Massachusetts.

Much has been said about the surplus of women in Massachusetts, but the phenomenon appears to arise entirely from the fact that the manufactures of Massachusetts attract a surplus of women from abroad, while the enterprising portion of her young men find more profitable fields of employment elsewhere. The surplus of women on June 1, 1870, was 51,063, or about 11 per cent. Up to the age of 15, however, there was a slight excess of boys over girls, thus showing that more boys than girls are born and survive the maladies of childhood. The surplus of women among the foreign population of the State is 17,403, or about 11½ per cent—larger than among the native,—still further showing that it is an incident of employment only. The surplus of women, both native and foreign, is entirely between the ages of 15 and 45. From 45 to 60, the men are slightly in excess, while above 70 the woman again largely exceed the men, and continue above that age to show the greatest longevity. Of 49 persons above 10 years of age, 26 were women; of 787 between 90 and 100, there were 553 women; and of 8,891 between 80 and 90 years of age, 5,481 were women. So far, therefore, from this "surplus" showing that women are worse off in Massachusetts than elsewhere, it only tends to show that the facilities for employing working women create an excess of the supply of female births, and this leads to an importation; while the advantages offered to males, relatively to those offered elsewhere, are below the supply of male births, and this leads to an exportation of males to more profitable fields of employment.

Education and Religion.

The Lieutenant-governor of Bengal has closed the Government Female Normal School, because three years' experiment has proved the institution a failure. He is "inclined to think that there is much in the view taken by the ladies most experienced in these matters—viz., that it may be very dangerous to give women education and a certain freedom of action without the sanction of some religion." He is right. Education, with men or women, needs religious principle to accompany it, or it will make its possessor a greater power for evil. The lieutenant governor proposes to aid any successful private schools, even though they make their religious teaching a prominent feature. Even we might fear the moral influence of purely secular schools in a community where there is no church to press the sanctions of religion on the moral nature of the students.

A CAREFUL calculation as to the number of human beings addicted to cannibalism at the present time gives a total of only a fraction inside of two millions, which actually represents the six hundred and nineteenth part of the whole population of the globe. The motives assigned beyond mere hunger, induced by dearth of other animal food, are the passions of revenge and hatred, as well as religious sentiments and gloomy superstitions.

INDUSTRIAL ITEMS.

[From the American Manufacturer.]

LOCAL.

A BILL incorporating the Allegheny Screw and Bolt Company has passed th Pennsylvania Legislature.

A PIPE or tube works is now a fixed certainty in McKeesport, as excavation for the buildings has been commenced.

AS A rule Pittsburgh mechanics who earn from $80 to $100 per month have fewer houses and personal chattels than the laborers who work with them at from $50 to $60 per month.

ROBT. LEA'S machine shop is busy on the work for a large steamboat which is building for Thos. Fosset. This boat will be supplied with a double engine, 26 inch cylinder and 9 feet stroke, and is intended to be a powerful and serviceable tower.

THE time has never before been known when Pittsburgh mill men, founders and machinists, were receiving so many inquiries from all parts of the country concerning means and equipment for the increase of iron products. Most of our factors find themselves prepared to meet every demand made against them.

FLEMING, AGNEW & CO., manufacturers of tinners' stamped and pressed sheet from, copper and tin goods, are greatly extending their facilities, on Third Avenue, and have removed their office to the side of the street opposite the factory. Their building, tools and number of Workmen are being largely added to.

ONE of the busiest places in Pittsburgh is the glass work of Hamilton & Co., where 80 men and 100 boys are employed in the manufacture of vials, bottles and a great variety of druggists' ware. They use one 8-pot and one 10-pot furnace, and turn out 200 gross of glass pieces per day, consuming some seven tones of glass material.

PENNSYLVANIA.

AN iron company with a capital of $200,000 is being organized in Pottsville.

ALMOST every manufactory in Erie has been compelled to enlarge this spring.

THE striking puddlers in Schall's mill, at Norristown, have been allowed $6,75 per ton and have gone to work.

THE Philadelphia and Reading car shops, at Reading, make one passenger car and ten freight cars per week.

THE capacity of the Atlantic rolling mill, at Sharon, is being increased about fifty per cent. by additional puddling furnaces.

ONE hundred and fifty million feet of lumber will be driven out of Bennett's branch and Trout run, Clinton county, this season.

THE Valley Furnace, at Sharon is making thirty tons of iron per day, of best quality. The bloomery is to be enlarged, and there is some talk of adding a rolling mill.

PATTERSON & BROS., a tin ware and sheet iron goods manufacturing establishment in Erie, are making a speciality of galvanized cornices. They are now manufacturing largely, but are about erecting a large brick building for their increased business.

THE iron fence works of Gorr & Bass is one of the substantial institutions of Erie, having been in operation for many years, building up an excellent reputation for the manufacture of wrought and cast iron fences, shutters, window sash, guards, railing, verandas, brackets, awning frames, and similar products.

THE city of Erie is getting to be pretty thoroughly organized. During the past six months the Burdett Organ works have been located in that city, and a large five story brick building has been erected. The works are now in better shape for business than before they were burned out in Chicago. Beside this a pipe organ manufactory is being moved from Buffalo to Erie, and large shops are now in course of erection.

THE Erie Paper Mills—Noble, Lock & Co.—are approaching working condition. Their plan of making best qualities, as well as the more common grades, of paper, from wood—swamp elm being given the preference—promises good results. Should it succeed as well as is anticipated, another will be erected immediately, within a short distance of the city, of sufficient capacity to turn out from about two to ten tons of paper per day.

THE result of iron making, at Rawle's furnace, Erie, has proven very satisfactory in every particular. When it was undertaken certain wise men shook their heads, as if in doubt, on account of the freight on coal from the Shenango Valley, but these doubts have disappeared. A rolling mill is now wanted at Erie to complete the success of the experiment, and lay a foundation for a dozen other mills and furnaces. We understand that a responsible party will be afforded the proper assistance for a mill, by people of the place.

THE stove house of Johnson & Black, in Erie, operates 100 hands. Their buildings cover a space of 165 by 230 feet. They use a 10 ton cupola, and consume 1,000 tons of metal per annum, one-quarter Scotch and three-quarters Lake Superior and Massillon, which makes a decidedly superior stove metal. Anthracite fuel is used, at a cost of $8 per ton. The firm make a specialty of the great Morning Glory stove, of which they sold during '69 and '70 over 20,000, mainly in Eastern Pennsylvania, the city of Philadelphia and vicinity being the principal market.

THE Keystone Stove Works cover five and a half city lots, each 105 by 82 feet. The main building, comprising office and ware room, with mounting department and casting room in the rear, is 105 by 311 ft. The front portion is two stories, the second story being used for tin shop, store room, pattern shop, &c. Additional buildings for stock purposes and storing patterns.—They employ nearly 100 men, and turn out 10,000 heating, cooking and parlor stoves per annum, the most of which are marketed in Chicago. Where they have had a warehouse for many years, and where they lost $40,000 worth of stoves by the great fire. Their hollow ware is made at Albany, and is of a better quality than that usually run in heats with stoves. They use Massilon; Shenango and Scotch iron, one-quarter Scotch, to the extent of 1,100 tons per annum in the manufacture of $260,000 worth of goods. They use anthracite coal and Pittsburgh coke. The firm is Tibbals, Shirk & Whitehead. Mr. White being the business partner at Chicago, and the concern is known as one of the oldest and most reputable stove houses in the country.

GENERAL.

PRINCE & CO., Buffalo, manufacture nearly four thousand cottage and parlor organs per annum, with a force of 200 men.

THE Ohio River Salt Company, in Meigs county, has ceased to exist, and is winding up its business. It is regarded as a failure.

THE amount of means invested in textile industries in Lowell is $14,000,000. There are sixty mills and other buildings in use in the business, and 13,000 employees.

THE Lafayette, Ind., new furnace, ten foot bosh, is turning out sixteen tons of iron per day. The operators hope to increase the yield to twenty-five tons per day, but in this they will most likely be disappointed.

THE catalogue of Ramsey & Co., Seneca Falls, embraces over 800 different styles and sizes of Lift and Force Pumps. They are now turning out 1,500 pumps per week, which range in price from $3 to $400; employing 130 hands in the business.

THE rolling mills of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, at Cumberland, in one day, recently, turned out three hundred and eighty-eight perfect rails, each thirty feet long, and one rail seventy-two feet long. Weight of rails, twenty pounds to the foot.

BORING for salt is now popular at Muskegon, Mich. Should the boring be attended with success each saw mill in the region will have its salt well—having the power and the "ground floor" but little extra expense will attend the boring or pumping for salt purposes.

THE Joseph Dixon Crucible Company, of Jersey City, N. J., are head quarters in this country for plumbago or black lead and all its manufactures. They claim to handle more black lead than any other concern in the world, their consumption for stove polish alone being about three tons per day;

THE Tredegar Iron Work, Richmond, Va., abandoned rail making some time ago, and changed their operations to railroad spikes, fish bars, &c., which they make of old English rails, and finish without a second heat. They turn out 30 tones of spikes per day, and employ sufficient workmen to make a pay roll of $45,000 per month. Colored labor is principally employed, and a person who lately visited the mills describes their operations as being expert and effectual.

BELLAIRE, Ohio, proposes a goodly number of improvements, the present season, among which are the Pultney Nail works, to be located in the north part of the city—a Window Glass Factory, in South Bellaire, by Sheits, Saunders & Co.—a Flint Glass Works, by Keller, Castle & Co.—a Glass Works by Col Sullivan, in Central Bellaire—a furniture factory, now under contract—with a strong probability of a blast furnace, by Bellaire Nail Works. Few cities of the same population have so fine prospects.

THE Marquette Journal announces the first cast made by the peat furnace at Ishpeming. The furnace was charged with Lake Superior ore and charcoal, and produced 1½ tons at the first cast. It is intended to begin on the peat fuel gradually as the stack becomes thoroughly heated. Iron and scientific men all over the country are anxious to learn the result of this experiment made with peat fuel, and should it prove a success, as is confidently expected by its projectors, it will mark the era of an immense increase in the pig metal productions of the Upper Peninsula.

"Tell it to the Marines."

Captain Jones, of Stonington, is responsible for the following: On his passage from New York a few years ago he observed, one summer afternoon, a heavy cloud arise from the land, and, to his great surprise, approach the vessel. Suddenly it broke near him, and covered the deck with millions of mosquitoes, while part of the flock went through the mainsail, leaving nothing but the bolt ropes hanging idly to the spars. Corroborative evidence to this astonishing tale was found in the person of a "down-east skipper," who heard the story, and who on comparing dates with the narrator, declared that two days afterward he was boarded by the same flock of musquitoes, and they all wore canvas breeches. —N. H. Register.

A Large Animal.

Old Dickey S., a very wealthy but very illiterate East India merchant in London, took a pair of compasses, and set about examining a large map of India, the margin of which was illustrated with drawings of the wild and domestic animals of the country. Suddenly Dickey dropped the compass in amazement. "It can't be! it aint in the horder of nature that it should be! Impossible! ridiculous!"

"Why Dickey, what's the matter?"

"Wot's the matter? Vy this Bengal tiger is ninety miles long!"

Dickey had measured the tiger by the scale of the map.—[Exchange.

CARL SCHURZ.

What the German and French Papers Think of Him.

It must be highly gratifying for Senator Schurz to learn that, while the liberal press throughout Germany deprecates his recent course as calculated to embitter the relations between the United States and the German Empire, the organs of the reactionists and Ultramontanes lavish praise on him on account of his conduct in the French arms sales affair, and the French journals applaud him because they think and hope that he will succeed in creating serious difficulties between his native and his adopted country.

The Oder-Zeitung thinks that "Carl Schurz is an overrated, selfish and ambitious man, who, as the present affair [the French arms sales debate] shows, cares very little for his fatherland. If he feels so shocked at what the War Department at Washington has done for France during the war—more shocked, indeed, than the Chancellor of the German Empire—why did he not raise his voice against the sales of these American arms in the Senate of the United States when it was time to stop them? It seems that his indignation dates only from the moment when he fell out with President Grant, whose election he now wants to prevent."

The Rhenish Courier says: "We are glad that the Provincial Correspondenz (Bismarck's organ) has so promptly disavowed the report that it would demand explanations from the Government of the United States for the sales of arms and ammunition to French agents during the war, and that it says that that Government has not violated the rules of neutrality, either directly or indirectly. To be sure, the Germania, (the Ultramontane organ of Berlin,) which, during the war secretly prayed against the success of our arms, now hopes to make a point against Prince Bismarck, by demanding that he shall call the Cabinet of Washington to account, and refers to Mr. Carl Schurz, who figures prominently in the American Senate debate on the arms sale to France, in order to prove that the United States violated the neutrality laws by permitting these sales. We never heard that Mr. Schurz, who has won his present position by his remarkable fluency as a speaker in English—a faculty rarely acquired by Germans in the United States—was an authority on international law. We prefer Vattel and Hugo Grotius on that subject, and think the honor of Germany is safe in the hands of Prince Bismarck."

The Breslau Gazette says: "The New York correspondent of the National Gazette (Berlin), overflows with admiration of Senator Carl Schurz, and pretends to believe that by attacking the President of the United States in regard to this complicated business, (the French arms sales), he has rendered signal service to his fatherland. We think otherwise. Practically, those sales, even if they have taken place in the manner charged by Senator Schurz, were of little consequence to this country; but, what is of very great consequence to us is that we should remain on the friendliest possible terms with the United States. Senator Schurz is working hard to prevent this, and for that he should not be thanked and glorified by any liberal minded German. If anything were needed to show it, one has only to read the Berlin Germania, which has conceiven a very sudden, but by no means inexplicable admiration for Senator Carl Schurz."

The Paris Patrie says:

"The continuation of the Place affair is taking place in the American Senate at Washington. Senators, such as Charles Sumner, the renowned friend of liberty, and Schurz, the German-American, who had suffered so much at the hands of the Prussian Government in years gone by, and who now holds the proudest posititition in the American Senate, are exposing the iniquities of the unprincipled Americans who defrauded us in the sales of rifles and cartridges. There is some comfort for us in the fact that these revelations must be an exceedingly bitter pill to the Prussians. It is quite likely that they will, with their usual arrogance, demand satisfaction from the Washington Government, which they believed during the war to be so exceedingly friendly to them, and so the Place-Remington affair may assume the importance of a first-class international question. If it does, we shall not be the losers."

Morgan Again.

About once in four or five years the question "Was Morgan murdered by the Free Masons?" comes up in the newspapers, and is discussed with as much fervor as if the transaction it refers to was a matter of yesterday. It will sadden those who delight in mystery to know, on so good authority as that of Morgan's son, that the supposed victim of the brethren of the mystic tie was neither tied to a stone and sunk, had his throat cut, or was torn asunder, according to the general custom in such cases. On the contrary he lived until nearly thirty years after his abduction, and finally ended his days in corpulence and contentment, at Hobartown, Van Dieman's Land, where he for some years published a newspaper, the Advertiser—which is still in existence. According to the statement of the son referred to, Morgan was released on condition of his leaving the country forever. He was accompanied to Quebec, where he entered the British navy, and was placed on a ship which left soon after for England. Later he accompanied a government vessel to Australia, and his period of service being ended he chose to take up his residence in that quarter of the world. His son is a resident of San Francisco, and is responsible for the statement here given.

"Good-Bye, Sweetheart!" is certainly one of the brightest and most entertaining novels that has appeared for many years. The heroine of the story, Lenore, is really an original character, drawn only as a woman could draw her, who had looked deeply into the mysterious recesses of the feminine heart. She is a creation totally beyond the scope of a man's pen, unless it were the pen of Shakspeare. Her beauty, her wilfullness, her caprice, her love and her sorrow, are depicted with marvelous skill, and invested with an interest of which the reader never becomes weary. Miss Broughton, in this work, has made an immense advance on her other stories, clever as those are. Her sketches of scenery and of interiors, though brief, are eminently graphic, and the dialogue is always sparkling and witty. The incidents, though sometimes startling and unexpected, are very natural, and the characters and story, from the beginning to the end, strongly enchain the attention of the reader. The work has been warmly commended by the Press during its publication, as a serial, in Appletons' Journal, and, in its book form, bids fair to be decidedly THE novel of the season.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR:
J. F. HARTRANFT,
MONTGOMERY COUNTY.

AUDITOR GENERAL:
HARRISON ALLEN,
WARREN COUNTY.

SUPREME JUDGE:
ULYSSES MERCUR,
BRADFORD COUNTY.

BONDS at Frankfort 95⅞.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 110⅜@110½.

THE Democratic State Convention will be held at Reading, Pa., on the 30th of next month. The appearances so far indicate the nomination of Gen. Cass for Governor.

PHILADELPHIA moves forward in educational matters, and is about to expend $80,000 for new public school buildings. Such enterprise glorifies a city and the people thereof.

THE trial of the insane Irish boy who attempted the life of Queen Victoria is progressing in London. It seems much like a legal farce to push the prosecution, as the would-be assassin is certainly of unsound mind.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS will remember that the United States Senate has passed a bill to extend the time for filing claims for additional bounty until the 30th of January, 1873, and providing that all claims filed after the 13th of January, 1871, shall be deemed to have been filed in time.

THE PHILADELPHIA delegates to the Harrisburg Convention promised EIGHTEEN THOUSAND Republican majority in that city for the State ticket with Hartranft on it. Now let us remember this, and see how near right they were. We will need every vote that Philadelphia can give the ticket, and we give this timely notice of the fact.

THE Philadelphia Age deserves the credit of resurrecting the euphonious expression of the "bread and butter brigade," applying it to the Republican party. It is sufficient to know that since our party has been in power bread and butter have been common things among the laboring classes, while in olden Democratic times the want of those necessaries was very generally felt by them, and hence we accept the appellation as an appropriate one.

THE cable sends us many foolish messages and idle speculations, but none was conspicuously more unfounded than that which hinted that Queen Victoria was about to abdicate her throne. She can entertain no such foolish idea, for her whole policy is to restore harmony among the people, and to live down the republican agitation which is now agitating England. Abdication would be fatal to her dynasty, and Victoria has enough good sense to appreciate the fact.

THE GREAT PUBLISHING firm of Harper Brothers have just done a good and noble thing, by which they have set an example worthy, at least, of the consideration of all business men having men in their employ. We refer to their generous gift of $5,000 and a six months' vacation to a cashier, who has honestly and faithfully served them for nearly forty years. It is not the munificence of the gift that excites our admiration, but the generous spirit that prompted the recognition of the worth of the services of an upright man. There would be a less number of defalcations throughout the country if employers would treat their employees with more consideration—more like men than slaves. For work fairly and conscientiously discharged for others it is only human nature to expect resonable acknowledgment and encouragement, and it is for this reason that mild mannered and appreciative "bosses" or "foremen" not only get more faithful labor out of their workmen, but also always retain their affection and respect.

THE DEATH of Hon. Erastus Corning, a very distinguished citizen of New York, has already been announced as having occurred at Albany on Tuesday last. He was born in Norwich, Conn., on December 14th, 1794. He removed to Troy, N. Y., in 1807, and entered the hardware store of his uncle, whose property he subsequently inherited. In 1814 he removed to Albany, where he established the well-known hardware firm of Erastus Corning & Co., which is still in existence. Mr. Corning held several important municipal offices in Albany; he was heavily interested in railroads, banks and canal companies, and was for many years President of the respective organizations with which he was connected. He was for several terms a member of the New York Legislature, and in 1856 was elected to the House of Representatives of the Thirty-fifth Congress. In 1860 he was re-elected to the Thirty-seventh Congress, and was again elected in 1862, but resigned in consequence of ill-health. He was a member of the Peace Congress of 1861, and was a delegate to the New York Constitutional Convention of 1867.

TRUE CHIVALRY.

We venture to assert, without fear of contradiction, that not one delegate left Harrisburg yesterday who was not well impressed with the dignity and sense exhibited by all the defeated aspirants for office, whose names came before the State Convention. But one idea seemed to prevail among them, viz., to wholly scout all feeling of sore-headed-ness, and yield a hearty, generous support to the nominees of the majority. Mr. Ketcham, in some remarks in response to a serenade, after the adjournment of the Convention, stated that he should use all means within his power to secure victory in October; and was "too old a dog to learn new tricks." A Republican, strong in convictions and ardent in his work from boyhood, a defeat by this or any other Convention, to his own aspirations, could not make a traitor of him. He was true, and hoped ever to remain true to his principles, one of which was that the majority should rule. We venture to add that he stands to-day, through his noble and praiseworthy conduct, stronger than ever, in the esteem of the Republicans of Pennsylvania, and will be sure to win the next political battle that he may think proper to engage in.

The same is true of General Harry White, who proved himself in every way a gallant, generous foe, yielding to his successful opponent prompt and cordial support. His subsequent nomination as Congressman at large, although unexpected and unsought, was a substantial recognition, at the hands of the party, of his capacity, services and wise conduct. We hope he will accept this nomination in the spirit in which it was tendered by his friends, well satisfied that he will adorn the position by his learning, judgment, and high social character.

It was a prominent feature which was evident at all times during the sessions of the convention, that harmony, come what might, would prevail, and a prompt acceptance of the result would be shown by all. This was the fact; no bitterness was exhibited, scarcely any dissatisfaction was apparent even, which, in so large a body, and after a somewhat prolonged preliminary canvass for support was as surprising as it was praiseworthy. We never, in all our experience, witnessed such a hearty, prompt and complete acquiescence in the results of a nominating convention, and we take this to be an augury of that success which we feel well assured will crown our efforts in October and November in this State. Let us all unite from now henceforth to make victory for our ticket sure, and to this end we pledge to do all within our power.

THE APPORTIONMENT BILL.

Governor Geary informed the Republican State Convention that the Congressional Apportionment bill, if approved at all, would not be signed by him until after the election in October. This made the nomination of two Congressmen at large necessary, and will compel the State to elect members of Congress for another term under the old apportionment. The Governor, in doing this, has acted with his usual mulishness and indifference to the wishes of the masses of the people, if he has not been actuated by even a meaner spirit, and bowed before influences he felt it impossible to withstand. It is understood that the principal objections to the bill came from one or two Congressmen, who find themselves legislated out of warm seats, which they have not been remarkable for adorning, and, in order to accomplish their own selfish purposes, they have prevailed on the Governor to prevent the final adoption of the new Apportionment bill in time to elect new members under it for the next session. John Cessna, we are sorry to say, has been named as one of those who are opposing this measure, which we deem, and which is generally deemed, so fair and just in its provisions. Why does he oppose it? Because it is unjust to the State or the party? Not at all; but simply because he cannot be elected to Congress under it in his district. He does not deny, nor can he or any one deny, that it is one of the fairest bills ever framed of the kind. It also removes all temptation to endeavor by unlawful means to carry the majority of the districts by making all those which are Democratic, strongly so, and the same is equally true of those known to be Republican. Is this not better than to create weak districts, where bitter and malignant partisanship might be induced to resort to nefarious practices in the struggle for the mastery? Undoubtedly it is. We consider it eminently wise in the determination of the leaders of both parties in the Legislature to so district the State, that each political party may secure just representation, and secure this too, without a bitter and perhaps unlawful scramble. Should the personal ambitions and aspirations of any man, or any number of men, be conceded as an argument against this proposition? We think not; and are therefore unable to account for the Governor's action—or rather non-action—in this matter of the apportionment bill, except on the presumption expressed above. No one complains that the bill is unfair to the State or either party; it received the votes of members of both parties in the Legislature, leading Democrats as well as Republicans supported and voted for it, and while it is perfectly impossible to frame a bill of this nature to suit every section or every politician, we yet deem this one the nearest approach to that impossible goal that has ever been reached in this State. We hope and trust that Geary will reconsider his determination in this matter, if he has serious contemplated vetoing the bill. It will be one of the best acts of his life, and we shall not withhold from him the credit to which such an act will entitle him, as we desire to be just, if we sometimes do find it impossible to refrain from censure and condemnation.

OUR CANDIDATE.

The readers of the GAZETTE know that General Hartranft was not by any means our choice. Not that his personal character was thought by us to be tainted, nor that his qualifications to satisfactorily discharge the duties of the high position of Governor of this great Commonwealth were insufficient, but for other and entirely different reasons. We deemed him competent, we also believed him to be trustworthy, but we did not consider him the best fitted of the candidates aspiring to the Governorship, nor the most available among them either. A wide spread dissatisfaction against his candidacy was known to exist within the party, particularly in the western portion of the State, founded in part on his alleged connection with Evans, the State agent, who has since that connection, turned out a defaulter, and although we deprecated the charge of guilt, freely made against the Auditor General, and pronounced emphatically our disbelief of its truth, yet we were bound to notice and confess that the people around us differed from us. This we did fearlessly, plainly, and we still affirm it as truth which cannot be successfully contradicted.

But that is past, and our attention should be given to facts as they are presented to us at this time. General Hartranft has been nominated in the Republican State Convention by a large majority of the delegates, properly elected and qualified so to act, if they thought best. He is the Republican nominee for Governor to-day, and, as such, is clearly entitled to every Republican vote, provided he is a suitable man for the position, of which the voters themselves must be the judges. THE GAZETTE will not advise the election of any unfit or improper person to office, but it will and does claim that every Republican should waive personal feeling and prejudice, and give each candidate an impartial hearing before he is condemned. No honest man will refuse to do this much. General Hartranft being the acknowledged candidate of the party for the governorship, legally and justly elected as such by the regular delegates or representatives of the party, under the usual and regular modes and systems, and pronounced such by the Convention of the party, to which Republicans claim to belong, is entitled to a just hearing, and his acts to a fair review by every intelligent and honorable member of his party. If the evidence acquits him of criminality, and what is known of his record justifies the belief that he is capable to discharge the duties of the high and responsible office to which he has been nominated, then he is entitled to the cordial support of every member of the party without qualification, although another may have been preferred in his stead.

We earnestly hope that every Republican will view the whole subject calmly and dispassionately, and not be led astray by prejudice or personal feeling. General Grant must be re-elected this fall, if we would preserve the nation in its purity, and perpetuate the principles which we have espoused and advocated as a party, and which have brought the country up to its present proud and prosperous condition. Let us, therefore, be careful to do nothing which may imperil the success of that organization which has been the only defense of those principles in times past.

A SKILLFUL young burglar, calling himself Jack Sheppard, escaped from the "strong room" of the New York police headquarters on Tuesday, by wrenching off a grating, slipping through into a corridor, dashing past an entering door-keeper, and scaling a rear wall. If some facile scribe with a vivid imagination will undertake to write this up, it may ruin hundreds of boys and become a standard addition to the yellow covered poison now in vogue.

THE STATE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

The proceedings of the recent State Convention have already been pretty fairly reported in our columns by telegraph, but desiring to place on record fuller minutes of the very important political body, we present the following address to previous dispatches. We have given all information concerning the details of the conduct of the Convention, and herewith present the resolutions adopted as the platform of the Republican party of Pennsylvania, as reported by Hon. P. C. Shannon, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, and unanimously adopted:

1. That we reaffirm our devotion to the principles of the Republican party, and our belief that the continued existence of that party is necessary to the maintenance and success of those principles. The grand and fundamental idea of the equality of all men in political rights is not professed by any other party, and can be sustained faithfully only by those who are sincerely committed to it.

2. That the adoption of the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution of the United States has not been sufficiently acquiesced in by all to render certain and secure their permanent incorporation in that instrument, and hence the administration of the government can safely be entrusted only to that party which is heartily, and beyond question, committed to them, and the policy necessary to put them into successful operation.

3. That we are now, more than ever, called to sustain the policy of national protection to American industry. If a laborer is worthy of his hire, and a fair day's work entitles the worker to a fair day's pay, we must continue to throw the protecting arm of the government around those who toil for their daily bread. The protective policy alone makes labor contented and capital secure. It renders employment certain, and pay ample and satisfactory; whilst free trade means that our laborers and mechanics must either work for lower wages or that our factories should be closed through foreign competition, and the workingmen of the country deprived of employment.

4. That the public lands belong to the people, and should be reserved for the people. We, therefore, pronounce most decidedly against any further appropriation of the public lands in behalf of corporations or individuals. All lands not sold according to law should be open to pre-emption and actual settlement.

5. That we demand a continued adherence to the policy hitherto pursued, under Republican auspices, in our State and in the nation, of a steady and gradual reduction of the public debt. The interests of the people require that the most rigid economy should be practised in the administration of both the National and State governments, and that taxes should be reduced in both as rigidly as is consistent with the honorable maintenance of the public credit, and the certain extinguishment of the public debt.

6. That we are earnestly in favor of the earliest possible removal of the duties on tea and coffee, and urge the prompt passage of the bill for that purpose now before Congress.

7. That we heartily approve of the act of Gen. Grant in giving a trial to the plan of civil service reform. We demand that that plan, or any other that may be substituted in its place as better, shall have a fair and unembarrassed trial, that every effort shall be made to secure competent men for the public service, and that honesty and incorruptibility shall be deemed qualifications as essential as competency and intelligence.

8. That the Republican party has given full evidence during the past eleven years of its ability to administer the government honestly, faithfully and successfully. It has, within that time, maintained the honor of our national flag at home and abroad; preserved the Union from disruption and restored it to its integrity; secured to all classes and conditions of men the rights given to them by their Maker, and having proclaimed liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof, has given to that proclamation the full effect to which it was entitled; and we therefore, in its name, claim from the people a continuance of their confidence, and fearlessly challenge their scrutiny into its acts.

9. That we point with pride to the record of General Grant's administration of the National Government. Not only has the weight of internal taxation been almost wholly removed from the people's shoulders, but three hundred millions of the national debt has been paid off—a result never before attained by any other people under like circumstances, and for which we are indebted to the rigid honesty, strict economy and sterling integrity which the President has brought to the administration of national affairs.

10. That we present his name for renomination to the Presidency, confident that the people will again rally to the support of the man who so nobly fought their battles; who, under the guidance of Providence, brought the nation safely through its struggle to maintain its existence, and who has since so successfully administered the affairs of the Government as to command general admiration, at home and abroad.

11. That we will stand by the Government in the foreign policy so firmly marked out and adhered to by President Grant. The honor of the nation, we feel, is safe in his hands, and the flag under which he never suffered defeat, will not be dishonored while he is kept in the front.

12. That we congratulate the people of Pennsylvania on the final accomplishment of the call for a convention to revise and amend the Constitution of the State, and we earnestly urge upon our friends to see that delegates are chosen in their respective districts committed to the policy of incorporating in that instrument a clear and decisive prohibition of special legislation.

13. That we hereby declare our opposition to every effort to withdraw from the sinking fund of the Commonwealth, either by substitution, exchange or otherwise, any of the bonds, securities or moneys now pledged to it, and through it to the payment of the public debt of this Commonwealth, and our inflexible determination to preserve the same, inviolably, for these fulfillments of the Commonwealth's obligations.

14. That the oil producing, mining, lumbering and manufacturing inerests of the State require protection from the efforts of dangerous combinations, and that such laws should be enacted by the General Assembly of this Commonwealth as will protect said interests, both in their development and transportation of their productions to market.

15. That the thanks of our party are due to Governor John W. Geary, under whose lead our principles have twice been successfully vindicated in Pennsylvania; the State debt has been largely reduced during his administration: our soldiers' orphans have been carefully cherished and educated; and our laws have been efficiently and wisely enforced. Under the necessity of parting with him as Governor, in conformity with the Constitution of the State, Governor Geary carries with him in his retirement the heartfelt wishes of its people for his future prosperity and happiness.

16. That we present with peculiar pride and especial confidence of their success, the names of Gen. John F. Hartranft for Governor, Ulyssus Mercur for Supreme Judge, Gen. Harrison Allen for Auditor General, and the gentlemen this day named for delegates at large to the Constitutional Convention. They are all men worthy of an active and ardent support at the hands of the Republican party, and we call upon our friends throughout the State to rally as one man to secure their triumphant election.

17. That the President of this Convention, in connection with the candidates this day nominated for State officers, appoint the chairman and one Secretary of the State Central Committee, and that the State Committee be made up on the basis adopted last year, and the two years preceding.

MATTERS OF MOMENT.

TILTON sympathizes with Tichborne, and would not be surprised if he turned out to be an honest man. It is a pity Tichborne can not return the compliment.

THE New York Independent ask: "Can a Darwinian be a Christian?" Now we think the question ought to be a little more definite, but we think he can—that is if he has advanced beyond the stage of the missing link. If he has not we would not like to answer for him as we have never seen or heard of a Christian with a tail.

IN THE House of Representatives, a Mr. Carroll opposed the bill to abolish the franking privilege, and said its abolition would bring about the ruin of the republic. We suppose Mr. C. is the Nye of the House. What a wonderful humor he seems to have! Only think—a republic founded on postage stamps! How it would stick!

WHEN will we have telegraphic communication with Mars? We know some evil disposed child may say it has had a striking interview with Mar's slipper already, but we mean the planet Mars. Astronomers tell us it is a great deal like our earth, with land and water, snow and verdure, and altogether a fine place for our frontiersmen when the frontier of our continent has been washed out by the tide of emigration. Twenty-five years ago it would have excited no more scorn to propose laying a wire to Mars than to propose connecting America and Asia by cable, and twenty-five years from now——why what could not take place in that time?

CARLISTS are again agitating Spain. They must be the most irrepressible of agitators. From time immemorial they have been hovering around the borders of Spain like moths around a candle. The original Carlos is dead and so we believe is his successor, but the Carlists are the same as ever. Considering the recent events in Spain, one would suppose the agitators would be republicans or Isabelligerents, but no, it is of Carlists we hear and of them only. It is they alone who dash into Spain, capture an alderman and dash back again into France. If any body else did it, it would be confined to the police telegraph instead of being sent over the Atlantic cable.

IF ANY of our regular readers who are Earls or Baronets are thinking of going off on some romantic incognito frolic, we entreat them to pause, at least long enough to mark or mutilate themselves in the presence of numerous unimpeachable witnesses, as to render it an easy matter to recognize them on their return. If they do not they may rely on having trouble. There was Sir Robert Tichborne, of whom some of them may have heard, and there was the Earl of Aberdeen, whose successor has already taken his seat in the House of Lords, while there is a young man in New York who says he is the Earl who was supposed to have been drowned. Waste not your opportunities and want not your witnesses. Procrastination of a unique tatooing is the thief of a jury's time. A few stitches in the arm filled in with blue ink may save nine or ten thousand pounds of lawyer's fees.

FROM ABROAD.

THE Emperor of Germany has ordered twenty iron crosses of the second class to be served out to each German regiment that has taken part in the active campaign of 1870-'71.

FORTY DAYS to the month is an economical and ingenious method of calculating salaries. This elongated calender is about to be temporarily introduced in the civil service of Turkey.

It is announced that Mr. John Bright will resume his seat in Parliament in a few days. He will, however, take no active part in public affairs, and has no intention of again entering the Cabinet.

A PLAN to make all railroad cars throughout Germany of one pattern, so that repairs may be facilitated and prices equalized, has been proposed by a scientific association of the railroads in that country.

INTELLIGENCE from Copenhagen states the tidings concerning the Prussian Schools' Inspection bill to have been so favorably received in the Danish capital as to originate a general movement in favor of its adoption in Denmark.

THE Paris municipal authorities have at length accepted Sir Richard Wallace's offer to erect drinking fountains in the streets of that city at his own expense, and orders have been given for their construction before the hot weather sets in.

A GERMAN Jesuit organ says: "On the 8th inst., the day when the Schools Inspection bill passed the Upper House, the Evangelical orphan asylum, at Erfurt, the former Augustine monastery, was burned down. 'The historical cell of Luther,' says the Magdeburger Zeitung, 'has also become a prey to the flame.' What an ominous coincidence!"

IT'S no use; they can't do it. In Baden, for instance, the government decided to employ women as telegraphers. All went well enough for awhile, but soon they began to talk with each other about parties, and beaux, and Dolly Vardens, and kept it up at such a rate that their chatter monopolized the wire. The government has permitted them to retire to private life.

THE "Old Catholic" priest, Mgr. Kaminski, in Kattowitz, has had a foretaste of purgatory. A deputation of eleven Jesuits was sent into his house to reconvert him, and stayed with him an entire fortnight. In spite of this severe trial, the priest adhered to his Old Catholic principles. Mgr. Kaminski invited the Jesuits to a public discussion; but this offer they refused to accept.

A PARAGRAPH in the Herald shows us that the trade in Circassian beauties at Trebizond is still carried on to a large extent. Among a party lately arrived was a young houri of fifteen years, of such unusual beauty of form and face that she was readily bought for one hundred thousand piasters by a rich merchant. The young beauty was entirely resigned to her lot, and cheerfully embarked to find a home at Constantinople.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Pall Mall Gazette, writing of the late Italian patriot, says: "Mazzini had resided since the beginning of last month in Pisa, under the English name of George Brown, his presence being completely unknown to the public and even to the Government; unless, indeed, the latter may have chosen to ignore it. His doctor believed him to be an Englishman. None of his friends were present at his last hour. His death gave rise to no popular demonstration, except that the students of Pisa shut the doors of the university and improvised a day of mourning for the patriot."

A SUIT brought by M. Goupil against M. Paul Feval, the novelist, has just been decided before the French Civil Tribunal of the Seine, after occupying two sittings. The plaintiff had imagined that his mother was represented in an odious light by one of the personages in the tale of "La Rue de Jerusalem." The character in question is a countrywoman named La Goret, residing at La Fertee Mace (Orne) immensely rich, as she pays $7,200 in taxes, but so miserly that she mutilated her only son in order that he might be exempt from serving in the army, and that she should not be at the expense of buying him off; she also allows her husband to die for want of a doctor, her only weak point is that she believes in the existence of Louis XVII. M. Goupil's mother, a widow, also resides at Le Ferte Mace, and the coincidence of place, and the exactitude of some of the descriptions has caused the plaintiff to suppose that his family has been designated. The defendant protested that he did not know the Goupils, and had no intention whatever of picturing them; he had chosen a type, composed of various moral deformities, but entirely drawn from imagination. The Court gave a verdict for M. Paul Feval with costs.

POLITICAL.

PRESIDENT GRANT has reduced the debt $250 every minute since his inauguration.

MR. GEORGE W. JULIAN, formerly a member of Congress, an advocate of female suffrage and one of the prominent leaders of the Labor Reformers, will attend the Cincinnati Convention.

A MEETING was held in Philadelphia last Wednesday evening to protest against such an amendment to the Constitution as will render persons of foreign birth eligible to the office of President.

THE Mobile Register, running a muck on the Grant question, fearlessly propheciess: "Grantism, sooner or later, will cure itself, and be torn to pieces at last by the dogs that are now blindly yelping at its heels."

THE Republicans of Allegany county, N. Y., who approve of the call of the Cincinnati Convention, will meet to select delegates at Belmont on the 21st inst. They are both thought to be unanimous as to their delegates.

THE Springfield (Illinois) Journal speaks confidently of the prospect of the "regular" Republican organization in that State, saying that the candidate of the Philadelphia Convention will have the usual Republican majority of fifty thousand.

THE Democrats of Middlesex, Pa., for the purpose of having a little fun at the late election, nominated a colored barber of the place, who was a Republican, as candidate for councilman of the borough. The Republicans have a majority there, but on this occasion they thought they would help the Democrats with their jest, and therefore voted for the colored barber, who was elected.

THE Cleveland Plaindealer has discovered a latent strength in the Connecticut Democracy, whereupon the Dayton Journal remarks: That "latent strength" is like latent heat in snow, and suggests the same question which was put by a practical chap when the theory was stated to him. He wanted to know "how many snow balls it would take to set the water in the kettle a bilen?"

REPRESENTATIVE VAN TRUMP, in a long letter addressed to his constituents in Ohio, warns his Democratic brethren against the "passive policy," and declares that no matter how large, enthusiastic, or respectable the Cincinnati Convention may be, it will represent no controllable definite element of strength. He is in favor of a Democratic National Convention, and that straight-out Democratic candidates be nominated.

ALL the signs point alike. Another is the fact that at a meeting of the Republicans of Mr. Sumner's own ward in Boston, delegates to the State Convention to choose delegates to Philadelphia were unanimously instructed for Grant and Wilson. As in Boston there is but one Republican organization, and as yet no attempt looking to any other, this indication corroborates all the elections of the East this year, showing that the Republican voters do not share in the personal controversies of their leaders.

THE immense enthusiasm of the Cincinnati movement was illustrated in Wisconsin, Schurz's old stumping ground a week ago. At Madison, the capital, a Schurz sympathy meeting was held a short time since. The Democrats then nominated a strong candidate for Mayor, and a German for Treasurer. A day before the election the Republicans nominated James A. Hill, and elected their entire ticket by two hundred majority, although Madison usually goes Democratic. Shurzism is appreciated in Wisconsin.

GEN. SIGEL, who is too well known in Missouri to need an endorsement, and who has as many friends here who are just as willing as ever to "fight mit Sigel," has no idea of being carried around in Schurz's breeches pocket. A recent New York letter says: "Senator Schurz's efforts to alienate the Germans from the President have not been successful in this quarter. Gen. Sigel is a warm friend of the Administration, though he holds no office under it. He has done all in his power to neutralize Senator Schurz's endeavors, and the Germans in New York are with him. Schurz's complete breakdown in his efforts to prove that the administration sold arms to the French government, has placed him in an unenviable position before his own countrymen. He has been set down as a dangerous mischief-maker, who, to gratify his personal revenge, would, if possible, involve his adopted country in war with his native land."—St. Louis Democrat.

JUSTICE—OF THE PERIOD.

Spake the Goddess of the Scales
Even balanced, justly weighing,
Of the sword and bandaged eyes,
"Who that slays his brother—dies!"
Thus in sternest accents saying.

Meekly Mercy pleads for grace;
Weeps and pleads in accents stirring:
"Break the stricken culprit's chain,—
Hear not Sorrow's suit in vain,—
Deal not harshly with the erring."

But the Goddess of the Sword,
Her unerring scales displaying,
Showeth one with guilt down-weighed,
Empty one in air displayed,
"Who that murders—dies!" still saying.

"Deep his guilt, O Goddess just!
Black his crime to mortal seeming:
But his wrongs were manifold,
Not for lust he slew, nor gold,
But of righteous vengeance dreaming."

Still the scales are held aloft
Wherein change or shifting none is,
And the austere Goddess cries,
"Who that slays his fellow—dies!
Changeless be lex talionis!

"Stay, O Goddess! yet awhile,
Lower hold thy balance—lower."
And, the empty scale upon,
Mercy casts a scroll,—'tis done,
And it swings on high no more!

Eyes unveiling, Justice smiles
At the hieroglyph of "Spinner,"
Reads aloud the magic scroll—
"U. S. Treas., One Thousand Doll.,"
Frees the rogue, and goes to dinner.

HEART DISEASE.

A GREAT CURE BY DR. KEYSER.

I came to Dr. Keyser early in December last with a broken constitution and general impaired health. I had pains about my heart and tightness across the chest, and my suffering was truly great, and I found my health fast wearing away. I had every appearance and every feeling of disease of the heart. Every one who saw me could easily tell how sick I was by my sallow look and emaciated form. I could not perform the slightest labor without the greatest exertion, which always produced extreme physical prostration and palpitation and pain about the heart. I have now taken medicine from Dr. Keyser for nearly four months, and I feel as vigorous as ever in my life—in fact, I feel my health better than before I commenced treatment.

I have given permission to Dr. Keyser to publish these facts with reference to my cure in the hope that other sufferers may be benefitted by his treatment.

PHILIP ZIMMERMAN,

THE PRICE OF HEALTH,

Like that of liberty, is eternal vigilance. The vapor-laden air of spring exercises a depressing influence on the vital powers. The strongest feel this devitalizing effect; the weak are prostrated by it. Everybody is more or less debilitated at this season, and the feeble instinctively seek the help of medicine. Unfortunately, the "remedy" resorted to sometimes aggravates the mischief. Raw stimulants are eminently pernicious in such cases, and drastic cathartics about as bad. The vital principle needs succor and support, and a reinforcing preparation that will tone and rouse, while it regulates and purifies the system, is the medicine that nature demands. All the medicinal elements required for such emergencies are combined in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the purest and most efficacious vegetable elixir that the world has ever known. It is a mild stimulant, a powerful tonic, an unequalled appetizer, an absolute specific for diseased digestion, a wonderful nervine, a moderate cathartic, a remedy for liver complaints and periodic fevers, a cure for constipation, a specific for rheumatism, of essential use in all ailments to which the feebler sex are subject, and as a general household medicine unequalled and unapproached. These are the properties which have made Hostetter's Bitters famous everywhere. See to it, however, that you have the true article, for the land is infested with swarms of local bitters, made from condemned liquors and worthless drugs, which greedy wretches who speculate on human life recommend as panaceas for every ill that flesh is heir to. Beware of the charlatans and their poisons.

MRS. S. A. WANNER & CO.'S SEPIA,
A WATER COLOR FOR THE HAIR.

Ladies and gentlemen are alike interested in this article, for they are all interested in their own personal appearance and personal adornment. Beauty will fade—the hair will turn gray—and we sometimes find ourselves approaching "the sere and yellow leaf" early in life. There is a dread of becoming old that cannot be overcome. NEW YORK, April 11, 1872.

Gold closed quiet and firm at 110⅜@110½, after having sold at 110½. Loans were from 7 gold to flat for carrying. Clearances $24,000,000. Governments quiet and steady. Stocks opened heavy, and during the first and second calls sold down to 2@3 per cent. In the afternoon there was a very rapid reaction, the bears having failed in their efforts to create a panic by locking up money, which returns here now faster than they can lock it up. The banks received to-day large amounts from out of town correspondents and there promises to be a plethora soon, as it is believed the bears unlock money before long. Northwesterns were the weakest stock, owing to the report that there would be no dividend on common, and fell to 78⅝, but rallied to 80¾. Lake Shore fell to 94⅛, and reacted to 95. St. Paul declined to 59¼; rallied to 60⅞. New York Central fell to 96⅞; closed at 97⅜. The Chicago and Indiana Central remains strong, either on large purchases by the Baltimore and Ohio party or the Atlantic and Great Western. There is a large short interest in this stock created since the late rise by parties believing it to be almost worthless, and it is predicted that they will be cornered. The market closed strong and active. Money opened strong at ⅛ and closed at 1 per cent. gold, one bank having loaned $500,000 at the latter rate. State bonds dull and steady.

Sterling exchange 109¾.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY April 11, 1872.

ASHES—Soda ash is easier and we reduce our quotations to 6¼ for common and 7 for refined; Nitrate, soda, 5; Pots 10; Pearls, 11.

APPLES—Quiet and unchanged, sales at $3@4 ₱ bbl for common to fair and $5@5,50 for prime to choice.

BUTTER—The market is easier and notwithstanding the supply is light, prices are barely mantained; prime to choice 28@30 cts; common to medium, 20@25.

APPLE BUTTER—Sales at 65@70 ₱ gallon for common to medium and 75@80 for good to choice.

BEANS—Continue scarce and the market is steady with sales in a jobbing way at $2,50@3 ₱ bushel, as to quality.

BROOM CORN—Is quiet and unchanged; sales, mostly in small lots, within the range of 5½@8¼ ₱ lb as to quality.

CANNED GOODS—Peaches (3 lb. cans) $6@7 per case, according to quality. Tomatoes $4,50@5; Corn $5@6.50, the outside figure for Winslow's.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$5,25 ₱ case.

CHEESE—The stock of old is almost exhausted and as yet the receipts of new have been very light, and common in point of quality. We are reported sales of the latter at 15@16.

CARBON OIL—Is reported quiet and unchanged; 18¼@19 cts additional for small lots.

CRANBERRIES—Choice cultivated, $16@17 ₱ bbl; common, $10@12 ₱ bbl.

COUNTRY BACON—Shoulders, 5@5½; Clear sides 6¼@7; hams 8@9. Country lard 8@8½.

COUNTRY LARD—Sales at 8@9c per lb, according to quality and condition.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches continue slow but unchanged; halves, 9@10; mixed 7@8; pealed 15@18. Apples 8@9 cts for common to prime and 9½ for choice blackberries 14@15; pitted cherries 28@30 unpitted, 6@8 cts.

EGGS—notwithstanding the receipts are only fair and the supply by no means large the market is weak and we reduce our quotations to 20 cts—it was rumored that some sales had been made even below this figure.

FLOUR—The market especially for winter wheat is strong and the recent advance is well mantained, sales in a jobbing way at $8,25@8,50. Spring wheat flours are unchanged ranging from $7,40@7,75 the outside. It is rather remarkable that while winter wheat flour has advanced 50@75 cts ₱ bbl within the past days there has been no change whatever in springs. Rye flour $5,50.

GRAIN—Wheat continues very scarce, and with some inquiry the market is firm, and prices are higher; we advance our quotations to $1,68@1,72 for fair to prime red, and 3@5cts for white. Recent letters from Liverpool, state that the outlook there is bad for holders, unless the supplies from the United States should cease; of which there is some prospect, as our stocks are said to be none too large for our own use. Oats continue quiet and unchanged; some operators who are pretty well loaded are endeavoring to bull the market, but it is up-hill work, and buyers at any advance are hard to find. We continue to quote at 47@40cts for mixed to prime white. Shelled corn is steady, with sales in elevator at 57@58cts for high mixed; prime yellow quotable at 59@60. Rye is in light supply, but there does not seem to be much inquiry for it; we continue to quote at $1. Barley is dull and in the absence of sales may be quoted nominally at 70@75cts for spring, and 75@80 for fall.

GROCERIES—The grocery trade is fairly active, and business seems to be increasing; however there is still room for improvement. The situation in the east in regard to Coffee and Sugar is substantially unchanged; there is no quotable decline in the former, and some of the small operators are unloading as best as they can. Sugars are reported firmer. Rice is dull and lower.

COFFEE—Rio—Choice, 25; Prime, 24; Good, 23½; Fair, 23. Java, 28. Roasted, pure, 27, lower grades, 25@26.

RAW SUGARS.—Choice New Orleans, 11@11¼; Prime, 10¾; Good, 10; Fair, 9½. Choice Porto Rico, 10½; Prime, 10¼. Demerara—Choice, 11¾; Good, 11¼.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 11, 1872.

The refined market continues dull, and prices are without quotable change, as compared with yesterday. Spot and last half of this month, 21¼@21½c. It is rather remarkable, notwithstanding refined is down to, if not below, the cost of production, and stocks, at the sea board, are light for this season, that trade does not improve; it is not possible that the present stagnation will hold out much longer. Crude is reported unchanged; 8¾c is the asking price for spot, or to arrive on this water. We may look for increased receipts by river within the next few days.

RIVER NEWS.

The river commenced to recede at this point yesterday, and last evening the marks indicated scant eighteen feet. Weather continues clear and pleasant, and business at the landing is fair.

The Brownsville packets were obliged to tie up for about twenty-four hours, in consequence of the high water. The West Virginia due yesday, will not arrive until to-day. She will leave for Morgantown as usual to-morrow at 3 p. m.

The Juniata, Captain C. L. Brennan, will depart for Cincinnati to-day without fail. She is a fine large side-wheeler and offers superior inducements to passengers.

The Carrie Brooks arrived from Wheeling with a fair trip.

We see it stated that the Exporter will probably clear $5,000 on this trip to New Orleans. She took on iron, kegs of nails and a lot of wagons at Wheeling.

The Mollie Ebert, Capt. G. W. Ebert, will depart for St. Louis to-morrow evening. Here is an excellent opportunity for families emigrating westward. Mr. Standish Peppard still retains charge of the office.

The St. Louis Democrat of Wednesday says: The tow-boat Cowan left here on Monday without freight and without barges. She is making her fastest time to Louisville. It will be an astonishing fast run, although we understand she had so little coal on board that she will need to stop by the way and take in a new supply.

The Western departed for St. Louis yesterday forenoon with a big freight list and engagements below, and quite a number of passengers.

Capt. Kountz has sold the Ida Stockdale, now lying at Sioux City, to Captain W. E. Wellington of Dubuque—terms private. The Ida was built here in 1867, by Capt. J. T. Stockdale, for the mountain trade, at a cost of something like $28,000 to $30,000.

The Ella broke her shaft near Ripley, on Tuesday, and, with her tow of ten barges, she was towed to Cincinnati by the Sam Parker.

The Sam Parker with a tow of empty barges, and the Sam Clark with a tow of oil barrels, left Cincinnati for this port on Wednesday.

The Ed Hobbs with a cargo of 800 tons of ore for Wheeling, and 200 tons of metal for Steubenville, passed Cincinnati on Wednesday.

The Fontenelle left St. Louis for Fort Benton, on Monday, with 230 tons of miscellaneous freight, or $360 per 100 lbs, principally, some of it higher, and drawing 41 inches for ward.

—The Big Sandy lumbermen have suffered greatly by a rise of fifteen feet in that stream Monday night.

—The coal miners of Wheeling have determined to ask in advance of one-half a cent per bushel on the price now received.

—Six barges laden with coal, belonging to Hines, broke loose from Madison, Monday night, and fences were washed away along the river.

—The Carrie V. Kountz left Little Rock on the 8th inst., for New Orleans, with 2,690 bales of cotton—the largest trip this season it is believed.

—Thursday night a keel barge, belonging to Mr. Porter, of New Cumberland, and loaded with brick, struck an obstruction at Burlington Bar, above Wheeling, and sunk.

—Capt. John M'Clure has been appointed one of the Ohio River Improvement Commissioners, by Gov. Jacobs, of West Virginia. The names of the other four Commissioners have not yet been made public.

—A New Albany dispatch says: The Troy ferryboat, with about fifty passengers, was carried down the river yesterday by an ice gorge, and in consequence of the rising of the water all efforts to stay her going down stream proved fruitless. The boat struck on the draw of the upper bridge and there was fastened. The passengers were all safely landed. There was great consternation on board during the drifting of the boat.

—The New Orleans National Republican says: "A correspondent writing to a St. Louis paper says: 'Coal will go up to two dollars.' We would inform our contemporary that the price here is only $1,50 per box, and the present high price is owing to the small stock on hand, and the prices paid for the same by dealers in order to supply the steamboats that have been their regular customers. The demand is falling off, as many of the steamers are purchasing wood for fuel instead of coal. The present run of coal from Pittsburgh will tend to reduce the prices in a few days."

—At 7 o'clock on Tuesday morning at the Iron Mountain, with seven barges in tow, was decending the falls, in charge of Pink Varble, she was forced by the wind and strong current against the right hand pier of the bridge, crushing in the sides of three of her barges, and causing them to sink in a few minutes. One of the barges containing railroad iron, valued at $40,000; an other coal, valued at $2,500, and the other coke, valued at $700. The barges were almost completely wrecked, and but little of their contents can be saved. They belonged to the Gray Iron Line, and were insured. Protest were entered.

—St. Louis Democrat says: The query: "What will we do with them?" in relation to the People's Line boats, has been anwered promptly. We refer to the steamers Dexter, Annie Johnson, Hudson, Jennie Baldwin and Victory. Captain Abe McPike has taten the matter in hand, and will run them between St. Louis and La Cross on the Upper Mississippi, and all the boats will tow barges whether the water is high or low, and carry freight to and from all points along the route. The specialty of the line is to be the towing of barges, and it will be run on the most approved principles of economy in order to insure succes from the start. The Victory left yesterday for La Cross, the first boat of the line. R. M. Roberts will be the freight agent at this point.

—The St. Louis Journal of Commerce, of Saturday contained the following: The act recently signed by Gov. Brown for the abolition of wharfage tax on steamboats has given rise to considerable discussion. We have been informed that it is the opinion of Hon. Louis Gottschalk that the act can not be made to apply to steamboats trading to this city, the main point being: First, that the act contains no repealing clause, therefore being inoperative as affecting the provisions of the city charter; and second, that the harbor and towpath in front of the city was originally the property of the United States government, by whom it was given in fee simple to the city of St. Louis.

—The latter is the most important point, as, in the act of Congress giving title to the city, it is expressly provided that said title shall be unassailable by any act of the State Legislature. If this view be correct, it is clear that the city possesses an alienable right to levy such dues as it may seem proper, and, consequently, all trading to this port are liable to the city ordinances, all State laws to the contrary notwithstanding.

Sunday School Anniversary.

Tuesday evening the Sunday School connected with the Third U. P. Church, Allegheny, held their regular anniversary meeting, at which addresses were made by Revs. Messrs. Laird, S. B. Reed, Sands, Hanna and Witherspoon. The reports, giving a detailed history of the school for the past year were read by Superintendent Pollock. The musical exercises were under the direction of Prof. W. B. Slack, who was assisted by a select choir; Mrs. E. Sawyer presiding at the organ. An interesting feature of the occasion was the distribution of the prizes, forty in number, which were given for various excellencies in attendance, memorizing scripture, &c., &c.

The Conservatory of Music.

This new institution, under direction of Prof. Seager, was fairly inaugurated yesterday, and is now in full blast. Rooms have been secured and occupied at No. 140 Smithfield street, a faculty of four or five teachers engaged, and the work of rehearsing for future concerts, as well as that of single class tuition, has been commenced. The cantata of "Daniel" will, we understand, be given shortly, in a manner similar to the rendition of "Esther," which recently gave such general satisfaction to the public. We understand that the Professor is organizing, and will shortly commence the training of an amateur troupe, to travel for a short season, during which they will present "Esther," "Daniel," and other like musical compositions.

THE NEW LIQUOR BILL.

A Certified Copy Received—Licences Granted Before May 1st Valid.

The agony on the liquor question is over, and the "risk" taken by the liquor men who have had licenses granted by the Commissioners, is no risk at all. We are credibly informed that certified copies of the new liquor bill were received yesterday, which obviates any necessity for the continuance of the case against Treasurer Kilgore, for the purpose of getting an opinion as to when operations under the old law ceased. The information is that the new law does not go into effect until May 1st, and consequently all applications granted by the Commissioners before that date are valid, and the licenses must issue under the old order and rates. It will thus be seen that all applications to be acted upon by the Commissioners should have been handed in by the tenth or before, as twenty days must elapse before the hearing.

The new law may therefore be said to be in operation now, and all who have not heretofore acted in the matter may "trim their sails" accordingly. The liquor interest note exultantly that the "local option" law has been decided, in Franklin county, to be unconstitutional.

MANUFACTURING DUST.

It it a Nuisance.

It would seem that with the streets of Pittsburgh so plentifully supplied with material for dust, which the sun quickly transforms thereto, that there was little need of a manufactory for it in Pittsburgh; but such appears not to be the fact. Yesterday a paper was filed in the Court of Common Pleas by Mr. Henry Otto, who set forth that he resides at 831 Penn street, where he carries on the business of a tailor; in the rear of his property, he says an establishment has been put into operation by Messrs. Joes and Shooks for the express purpose of grinding coke, sandstone and clinkers into dust, which is used in making "cores" for castings. The place is well supplied with machinery, and seems to have a good run of business as it is kept in operation nearly all night and day—while its proprietors talk of running all the time. Fearful that they would carry out their design Mr. Otto called the attention of Court to the establishment setting forth in his bill of grievances that his dwelling was shaken from "turret to foundation stone" by the running of the machinery, that the dust freely circulated and with each breeze was wafted into his house, destroying his domestic comfort and almost ruining his business; and finally that there were odors proceeding from the place which were exceedingly disagreeable and "totally unlike the otto of roses" facetiously concluded Mr. Otto.

The Court heard his complaint and fixed next Saturday for a hearing.

STRANGE DROWNING.

High Wind and High Water—Fatal Consequences of a Blast of Wind.

A curious and fatal incident attended the wind storm of Wednesday, in the Eighteenth ward of this city. About three o'clock on the afternoon of that day, Philip Reilly, who has for some time been engaged at the blast furnace of Thomas Carneige & Co., near the bank of the Allegheny river, left his work and went to a small outhouse on the river bank. After closing himself in, a fearful gust of wind lifted the frail building from its foundation, and landed it in the river. A number of persons noticed the occurrence, but not being aware that any person was inside the outhouse, thought little of the matter at the time. In the evening, however, as the men were leaving their work, Reilly was missed, and it was at once suspected that he might have been in it, at the time of its flight, he not having been seen after the occurrence of the accident. Search was at once instituted for the missing man, by his brother and some fellow laborers, but not until yesterday morning did their efforts meet with any success. Shortly after daylight, the missing structure was discovered to be lodged on McCulley's, formerly known as Wainwright's, Island, opposite Thirty-ninth street. A skiff was obtained, and several persons went to the place, burst open the door, and within found the lifeless body of Reilly. When the outhouse had struck the water it had sunken almost to the roof, and the door being closed, the unfortunate man had been unable to make his exit, and so had drowned.

Reilly was about twenty-five years of age and unmarried.

POLICE NOTES.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

At the early court Mayor Blackmore disposed of sixteen common cases yesterday morning, and three of the same character at the evening hearing.

Wm. Atkinson, who was arrested in Malatestee's saloon, charged with pointing a pistol at the proprietor's head, was discharged, it appearing from testimony presented that the accused had taken the pistol from one of the men who were engaged in a fight in the saloon, an account of which we gave yesterday, in order to prevent his using it. It was also claimed that the prosecutor had offered to use a club on one of the combatants, and that the accused had merely threatened to use the pistol if he did not refrain from using the club.

John England and Wm. Young were sent to the Work House, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, the former for thirty and the latter for twenty days.

Rudolf Snyder yesterday made two informations before Mayor Blackmore against John Stang, one charging assault and battery and the other surety of the peace. A warrant was issued.

Burgess Salisbury held Joseph Martin for hearing on a charge of surety of the peace, on oath of Christian Marian.

Mayor Callow last evening sentenced George Vogel to the Work House for sixty days, on a charge of wife beating, preferred by Mrs. Vogel.

Annie Hineman alleged, before Mayor Callow, that her husband, Henry, had used her badly, and threatened her with bodily harm. Henry was arrested, and in default of $25 and costs, committed to the work house for twenty days.

Deputy Mayor Nicholls fined Charles Graham ten dollars and costs, for drunkeness, and acting in a disorderly manner after arrest.

Julius Henry gave bail for a hearing before Alderman Taylor, on a charge of larceny by bailee, on oath of A. C. Rees. The article at stake is a calico shirt.

Yesterday, before Deputy Mayor Nichols, F. Bradley made information for surety of the peace against Jas. and Ellen Welsh, alleging that they threatened himself and wife with violent death. The parties were arrested and held for a hearing. On the other hand James Welsh also makes a similar information against Francis Bradley, Catherine, his wife, and Mrs. Michael Bradley, alleging that they all threatened violence against himself and his wife Ellen. Warrants issued.

THE OLD SONG.

Mr. Huckenstine from the Committee on surveys reported in reference to Locust street, they had decided to recommend that the Report of Viewers on the street be set aside and the street opened to the width of sixty-six feet, to Beaver Avenue. Report received and the ordinances accompanying disposed of as follows: Ordinance for opening of Henry street, referred back to have blanks filled up.

Ordinance for opening of Locust street to a width of sixty-six feet, from Grant auenue to Beaver avenue.

The Chair decided this ordinance out of order, until the report of the viewers had been disposed of.

Then followed a lengthy discussion, including a repetition of the respective benefits of a "50 foot" and a "60 foot" street, which have engaged the attention of Councils at stated intervals for the past three or four years.

Mr. A. PATTERSON finally offered a resolution that the report of the viewers fixing the width of the street at 50 feet be adopted.

The yeas and nays were called with the following result:

Yeas—Beilstein, Hilke, Moul, Omsler, Alex. Patterson, Riddle, Schoyer, Sweeny, Thompson, Wettach, McBrier, President—11.

Nays—Cochran, Huckestine, Kirkpatrick, Megraw, J. C. Patterson, Stuart—6.

The resolution was according adopted.

The plan of lots in Means property was approved as presented by Survey Committee.

Report of viewers on Lombard street. Referred back to viewers.

THE LIBRARY.

Mr. THOMPSON, from the Committee on City Property, reported a resolution authorizing the advertisement for proposals for the construction of a Police Station in the Ninth ward.

The committee also reported a resolution instructing the Engineer to prepare a plan for affording better accommodations for the Controller and City Engineer.

Mr. J. C. PATTERSON amended the first resolution so as to instruct the Committee to merely report a site and the cost of the same before the plan for the station house be made out.

The second resolution has referred back to the Committee with instruction to report such a plan to councils.

Mr. KIRKPATRICK, an ordinance in reference to repaving streets where they were torn up for the putting down of water, gas pipes, &c. Referred to Street Committee.

THE LOCK-UP.

Mr. MEGRAW, from the Committee on Police, presented a report in reference to the communication of Alderman D. L. Smith. The Committee reported that having consulted the City Solicitor, they found that Aldermen had no right to commit their prisoners to the lock-up.

The opinion of the City Solicitor accompanied the report and was read.

Mr. McBRIER thought if an alderman had no right to commit a man to the lock-up, it was a very curious provision of law, that ought to at once be remedied. An alderman was one of the conservators of the peace, and in common sense ought to have authority to detain persons in the lock-up prior to a hearing.

Mr. MEGRAW said that aldermen were not city officials, but were officers of the State and had no right over the lock-up. It had been built exclusively for the Mayor's business.

Mr. SCHOYER read a section from the city charter in which it was provided that two Alderman should be elected in each ward. This he contended recognized them virtually as conservators of the peace for the city, and consequently as such having the privilege of the lockup for their business.

Mr. J. C. PATTERSON thought the City Solicitor wrong in his view. He thought it was preposterous that an alderman could not commit a man to the lock-up. Under that construction of the law, a ward constable might arrest a robber or any cut-throat, and then find that he must let him off for want of a lock-up to keep him in. If such was the law, Council should not adjourn their present session without taking the necessary steps to have it changed.

Mr. MEGRAW said the jail by law was open at all hours of the day and night. The rule of shutting it up at a certain hour was a regulation of the Warden and not the law.

After some further discussion the report was referred back to the Committee with instructions to report an ordinance giving Aldermen the right to commit persons to the lock-up at night.

Mr. PATTERSON called up an ordinance in reference to the opening of Palo Alto street, and asked that it be laid over for consideration at next meeting. Granted.

Mr. ALEX. PATTERSON, a resolution for erection of gas lamp in Fifth ward. Carried.

Business from Common Council was taken up, and concurrences had in all matters not otherwise noted. Among the ordinances was one for changing the name of West and East Ohio street to Ohio street.

Mr. J. C. PATTERSON, Chairman of the Street Committee, stated that there was now no West Ohio street, as it had been added to Western avenue, making the avenue commence at Federal street and extend westward.

After some discussion over this "mixing up" of streets, on motion Western avenue was defined to commence at Sherman avenue and extend westward; and Ohio street commence at Sherman avenue and extend eastward. The ordinance was then adopted with this change.

Adjourned.

HEALTH OFFICERS.

Mr. WALTER presented the report of the Health Committee. The committee report favorably upon the ordinance relating to health matters. The committee had under consideration several applications for reimbursements for articles destroyed or ordered to be destroyed by the former health officer, occasioned by small-pox patients. Believing that they had no right to pay the same without instructions from Councils, the parties were recommended to petition Councils directly.

From a statement submitted to the Committee by Controller Brown, it appears that the appropriation has been overdrawn, with several large bills to pay. In order to meet maturing bills, the committee recommend the transfer of $1,000 to their credit. In relation thereto the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Controller be and he is hereby authorized to transfer $1,000 to the appropriation of the Committee on Health.

Report received and resolution adopted.

The revised ordinance referring to Health affairs was taken up, on motion of Mr. Walter, who moved its adoption.

Mr. McNEILL moved to amend by striking out section eighteen, which requires all persons, wishing to inter a deceased person, to apply to the Health officer for a permit.

Another member moved an amendment to the amendment, making the section to refer to cases only where persons died of epidemic diseases.

Both amendments were lost.

The motion recurred on the adoption of the ordinance on its first reading, which was carried.

Mr. WALTER moved to suspend rules, and adopt finally.

The motion was lost, and the ordinance was laid over under the rules.

POWERS OF THE HEALTH COMMITTEE.

The request of Mrs. O'Brien, for $27, to reimburse her for bed clothing destroyed, and board not paid, by the man who took small pox at her house and afterward died, was now called up for action by Mr. McNeill.

The President stated there were several other similar requests, which he read.

Mr. McNEILL moved to refer the papers back to the Health Committee.

Mr. WALTER stated that the Committee had no power to act, as at present constituted. If the revised ordinance were adopted, they would have power to take action on the bills, but not otherwise.

Mr. RIGBY moved to amend, by instructing the Controller to pay the bills.

Mr. McNEILL—These bills should be referred to a committee to see whether the bills were correct, and whether they should be paid. This is what committees are for, and they should not shirk their duty.

Mr. RIGBY withdrew his amendment.

The question now recurred on the reference to the Health Committee of the papers and bills. Carried.

MARKET RECEIPTS.

Mr. KNOX, of the Market Committee, presented the following statement of receipts, from various sources, during the month of March:

R. T. White, Second ward scales	298.03
Isaac Hipsley, Fourth ward scales	17.29

The report was received.

Mr. HASTINGS wished to know whether the Health Ordinance could be reconsidered, so that it might be adopted finally.

The CHAIR stated that it could not be done unless by common consent.

Several members objecting, the President passed on to the next order of business.

BUSINESS FROM SELECT COUNCIL

was now taken up, all of which was concurred in.

Mr. McNEIL, presented a resolution instructing the Street Committee to have a flag stone crossing placed on Sandusky street, at the intersection of Stockton avenue. Adopted.

The hour of ten having arrived, Council adjourned.

THE PARK QUESTION.

Mr. Hatch, Agent for Schenley Estate, Tells His Side of the Story.

MESSRS. EDITORS: In a well written article in a morning cotemporary, I infer that the writer is not fully posted on what has actually transpired between myself, as agent for the Schenley lands and the chairman of the Committee, and I know that when the facts are fully set forth, your commendable candor will not fail to set both myself and the Schenley people, in quite a different position from that, under which those, who have only heard of the matter through the partial statements before the Councils, would place us. In brief then, allow me to say that I was honored with a call, "official," from Mr. Burgwin, Chairman of the Park Committee. The gentleman stated he could not offer me less than $500 per acre. I said to him that the offer was so far out of reason that I could not advise a consideration of it. I was shown a certified copy of a law which it was intimated, would be enforced, and under which, in case of condemnation, it seemed, made it unnecessary to submit the "Park Question" to the vote of the people, and such was the view intimated to me by Mr. Burgwin. I then said that in case of certain reservations, I was disposed to name (viz: such as appear in the memorandum published heretofore) I would send the proposal made by Chairman of the Committee, to my principals for consideration. Thus the paper was conditionally signed (not sealed as reported). To these signatures was appended the words: "Subject to approval by Councils and by the Schenley people." I received for answer to my part of the business, power to act affirmatively, but subject to my discretion as to the best interests of the owners. Thus fixed, in due time, I so reported when called on, and that I would put my views in writing, as to what I thought, would, under all circumstances, be about fair to all parties: I then, verbally, stated (to Mr. B.) that I thought, that not only, the whole 285 acres of the Schenley's (being over two-thirds of their whole tract) but also that a pro-rata portion of the land owned by the respective parties on the three severst boundaries should be included at the same price and terms as that proposed by the committee for the Schenley land—and, that in no case, could I assent to the disposing of 50 acres, to such private purchasers, as chose to speculate, out of the finer parts, ends, or sides of the, so called, park area. It is but justice to say that friend Burgwin did not wait for a written outline of the above; and I suppose, did not feel it imperative, to present them in the short report, so ably set forth, in Councils. Now in order to put an end to all circumlocution and with the full determination on the part of Mrs. Schenley, that the citizens of Pittsburgh shall have a park, worthy of the name:—(not to be known, as Croghan, or as Schenley, but to bear the name of the venerable General O'Hara,) it is proposed, that—while Mrs. S. and her husband, give up this area, 285 acres, (being more than two-thirds of the whole tract,) it shall be suplemented at the same time by only one-half of the lands owned by Messrs. Burgwin & Co., by Messrs. Murdock and Mr. Cosgra & Co., they severally, to have and accept the same terms as set forth in the provisional argument aforesaid. If any gentleman of the Councils examine these three tracts of land it will be found that each of them presents the same slopes, soils and qualities that is found on the adjoining side of the Schenley land. The "Craft lands," now owned by Messrs. Burgwin & Co., are on one side of the valley, and that of Schenleys' on the opposite. The Murdock lands are gently rolling and cultivated. That of Mrs. Schenley, also cultivated as an orchard and dairy farm, has like rolling surfaces. The same may be said of the Cosgrave land, except that it is a continuation of the sloping surface, and below the general level of the uplands of all the other tracts. I would here add that no price has ever been set by the Schenleys, but nevertheless with the reservations referred to included, they are willing to give up this (over two-thirds of their tract) on condition that the three owners of the three several abutting tracts along with them, also give only the one-half off of their several areas and on same terms in every respect, as set forth in said conditional memorandum of agreement. This would make a park of say 450 acres, and if the same proportion should be given up by these several owners, as is contemplated on the part of the Schenley people, the city would have in this contemplated "Driving Park" an area of over 500 acres; and if any section of this enlarged area should prove eligible for a reservoir basin, its advantages would perhaps compensate for the space, if used. But aside from that, the increase of area to 500 acres would sensibly affect the value of all the respective contributors. This proposition has no reference to the actual sale value of these lands, as the nominal price is considered to be to some extent, though only very partially, a kind of equivalent for the marketable value, including the reservations.

Respectfully,
N. B. HATCH.

The Announcement was Made Last Week, And now the fact is consummated, that Wm. H. Lemon, late of the firm of Lemon & Weise, Fourth avenue, Furniture dealers, has opened a new storeroom at No. 45 Smithfield street, where he is prepared to meet all his former friends and customers. He has now on hand a large stock of Furniture, and is constantly receiving additions thereto, so that he is ready to supply any demand that can be made on him. Mr. Lemon fully understands his business, having been brought up in the trade from his boyhood, and we fully believe that his host of friends in this and the adjoining counties will give him as much business as he can possibly attend to. He informs us that he is now doing a rushing trade, and as he is selling on the lowest possible margin, all who are in need of anything in his line should give him a call at his new rooms, No. 45 Smithfield street, where we feel assured they can buy any article in the Furniture line as cheap, if not cheaper, than at any other house in either city.

On Everybody's Tongue.—Eulogiums of the great national regenerator of health, PLANTATION BITTERS, are on everybody's tongue. This gratuitous viva voce advertising is better than all the paid-for puffing to which the owners of bogus bitters are obliged to resort to. It has a spontaneous heartiness about it which carries conviction to the mind of the auditor. But it is a well-known fact that the proprietors of the PLANTATION BITTERS have never relied upon newspaper bolstering to establish the success of a preparation which owes its astonishing popularity mainly to the oral testimony of the thousands who have either experienced or been the eye-witness of the immense physical good it has wrought throughout the length and breadth of the land.

ELLEN ROLAND was found dead in her bed yesterday, at her residence in West Pittsburgh. Dr. McCord notified the Coroner.

THE man Stewart, who attempted suicide at the Union Depot Hotel, left for his home in Sandusky, Ohio, yesterday, in care of a gentleman who came to the city, from his home, to take charge of him.

WE understand that the Tomlinson estate in the Eighteenth ward, consisting of somewhat less than twenty acres was sold yesterday for one hundred thousand dollars, a large part of which was cash and the balance in three years.

THERE is trouble among the window glass blowers' on the South-Side, caused by a reduction of 30 per cent. upon the amount which they agreed to work for some time since. They now get a dollar a box—five and six boxes being a good day's work.

CONTROLLER BROWN, of Allegheny, yesterday received certified copies of the acts of Assembly for the improvement of the Troy Hill road, for the annexation of a portion of Reserve township, and for the recording of the ordinances passed by Allegheny Councils.

ORDINANCE OFFICER GEARY, of Allegheny, yesterday entered upon the duties of his office. During the day he notified some forty merchants to remove from streets and pavements of the city, on penalty of being prosecuted unless they complied within a certain time.

A BIBLE CLASS and teachers meeting, studying the Uniform Lesson, will be held at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., Penn and Sixth streets, this (Friday evening), to be conducted by Mr. T. J. Gillespie, of the Second U. P. Church Sunday School. Teachers and all interested in the study of the Bible are invited to attend.

MR. ANDREW CARNAGIE, son of Mrs. Carnagie, who was in the accident at Conemaugh Furnace, has presented Mr. Walter Kirkpatrick, Conductor of the train, with a gold-bearing bond of the Pacific Railroad for $1,000, and also $250 to the sleeping-car conductor, for their care of his mother at the time of the accident referred to.

ELSEWHERE we have commended as it deserves the determination of Mayor Blackmore to compel the people to observe the ordinance requiring the pavements to be cleaned. It is due to our Street Commissioner to say that by his operations during the past week on our cartways it has been discovered that they had once been paved. We trust he will not weary in well-doing.

PITTSBURGHERS who visit Chatauqua Lake will be glad to learn that the fishing grounds there are being stocked with salmon trout, under the direction of Mr. Seth Green, the celebrated fish breeder of New York. Twelve thousand young fish, averaging about an inch in length, were brought from the hatching houses with the loss of scarcely a fish, and were immediately transferred to the waters of the lake.

WM. A. THOMPSON, who was convicted four or five years ago of robbing the Postoffice boxes, and sentenced to the Penitentiary for ten years, has been pardoned out by President Grant. He has served out four years of his term, and his conduct has been so universally good while in prison, and his age was so much in his favor—he being only twenty-two years old—that it was deemed expedient to allow a commutation of his sentence.

WE congratulate our citizens upon the vigor and earnestness with which Mayor Blackmore has set about to enforce the ordinance which requires owners and tenants to clean the pavements in front of their houses, stores and shops. The Mayor assures us that there will be no let up in this matter, and the people may as well betake themselves to the habit, kindly and pleasantly, as a different course will bring fines and costs. The excellent sanitary effect, and the removal of the reproach of all strangers are among the fruits to follow the enforcement of our laws in this matter of cleaning the pavements.

LOSSES BY THE FRESHET.

Destruction of Property of Pittsburgh Shippers.

We take the following from the Cincinnati Chronicle, of Wednesday: The loss sustained by the coal dealers night before last will not fall short of $150,000, which includes about 1,000,000 bushels of coal, contained in 100 barges, and also 100 empty barges. About half of this falls on Pittsburgh merchants. The following losses are known thus far:

The Champion Coal and Towing Company lost four loaded barges and twelve empty coal flats used for delivering coal to steamboats; Swift & Co., two loaded coal barges and one coke barge; Lysle & Son, five loaded barges; Uriah Shinkle, two loaded barges and two floats; McDonald & Co., of Pittsburgh, seventeen loaded barges; Buchanan & Co., seven loaded barges; Marnet & Co., five loaded barges; Stone & Bros., six loaded barges; J. S. Neal, fourteen loaded barges; Jos. Walton, five loaded barges; Frank Schwerman, one loaded barge; Covington Rail Mill, one loaded barge; Lewis Strib & Co., four loaded barges; Billman & Co., three loaded barges and a flat; S. W. Bard, one loaded barge; Blick & Phillips, several loaded barges; Phillips & Jordan, several loaded barges; Browning & White, several loaded barges and a new flat; Swift & Co., two barges of iron ore.

BARGES RECOVERED.

The Champion No. 8 started out yesterday morning with the object of recovering what she could of the barges carried away, and was followed in the afternoon by the Champion No. 7 and Wm. Stone. The first was the only one of the three that had returned up to noon. She succeeded in catching ten loaded coal barges and one barge loaded with salt. Of these, two belonging to Jos. Walton & Co., and the barge of salt, the property of the Ohio River Salt Company, were safely landed at Warsaw bar, two of the Lioness Coal Company's and one of J. S. Neal's at Vevay Island, and one of the Clifton Coal Company's at Sugar creek. She also caught and landed one loaded barge belonging to Dunn, Connell & Co.

The Champion No. 7 we learn had recovered one loaded barge belonging to the Champion Coal and Towing Company, and landed it at Parlor Grove. She has doubtless recovered others, as she was on the lookout all night, and is still cruising about.

MORE DAMAGE BY THE STORM.

From Capt. U. B. Piersel, commander of the Maysville packet St. James, we learn that the storm night before last played sad havoc in Kentucky, between Maysville and this point. White Oak Creek, coming into the Ohio above Higginsport, and other small streams, were so swollen that the hacks and mails were unable to get to Higginsport, Ripley, and Augusta yesterday. Bridges, stone walls, and rail fences were washed away, and the country roundabout was visited with a general deluge. Several farms and houses were overflowed, depriving the occupants of homes for the time being; and in one case a family living back of Augusta was unceremoniously washed out, and two children were drowned. The other members of the family barely escaped with their lives.

FOURTEENTH WARD GRANT CLUB.

First Stated Meeting of the Organization.

A meeting of the Fourteenth ward Grant Club was held last evening at the corner of Fifth avenue and Robinson street, President Henry Lloyd in the chair, and Geo. D. Morris acting as Secretary.

On motion, Captain Dawson was elected commander of the marching company.

A resolution was adopted fixing Thursday evening of each week as the time for meeting, after which, on motion, adjourned.

PHILIP HOERR, P. M.

Queen of the Road.

Among the great variety of plain and stylish carriages to be always seen at the extensive Bazaar of C. West & Co., Nos. 75, 77 and 79 Liberty street, will be found an improved patent Buck Wagon, quite peculiar in construction, very light, very strong and very cheap, the spring is unusually strong, and yet so flexible and its motions so easy and gentle; that we feel sure they will grow rapidly into popular favor and prove to be, as they are called, the "Queen of the Road." Orders for them are coming in rapidly. F

The beautiful, balmy, breezy, springtime has come again and the change suggests to young gentlemen the propriety of changing their garments to suit the changes in the weather. To accomplish this in the most satisfactory manner we recommend them to go to the house of Urling, Follansbee & Co., South-west corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue, where they will secure the very best goods and the latest styles.

Gents' Fine White Shirts, Gents' Colored Shirts, Gents' Linen Handkerchiefs, Gents' Silk and Cotton Handkerchiefs, Gents' Lisle Thread and Berlin Gloves, Driving Gloves, Suspenders, Ties, Bows, Linen and Paper Collars and Cuffs, at the New Stand Stocking Store, No. 30 Fifth avenue. DEGELMAN & BLACK.

Pyle's O. K. Soap is the best family soap in use. Ladies who once become accustomed to the O. K. Soap will never use any other. tf

New Goods! New Goods!! A large assortment of New Goods, at the New Stand Stock Store, No. 30 Fifth avenue. DEGELMAN & BLACK.

The Professional Slanderer.

The Independent says: "We suspect it was an unchastened love for alliteration which first led Mr. Charles A. Dana, of the Sun, to call Secretary Robeson a robber. Certainly no proof beyond the first letter or two of his name has yet been adduced to the charge. But that style of proof would enable the Secretary of the Navy, unless he be a mild-mannered man, to retort by calling Dana a devil, a donkey, or a dunce, and, if a profane man, he might dash in another d or two to emphasize the titles. Here has been a most scandalous charge, particularly made, brought against a high officer of the Government; and, when challenged, no sort of proof brought to substantiate it. We do not care to characterize such journalism as it deserves. It would almost reconcile us to the French laws regulating the press. However, Mr. Dana has, perhaps, got what he wanted. The Sun and its editor have been extensively advertised. And, if it be as liars and slanderers, why Erostratus set the temple of Ephesus on fire that his name might not be forgotten. Is it not better to die infamously notorious than honestly obscure?"

ADDITIONAL TESTIMONY
OF THE
Excellent Qualities
OF THE
BURKE & BARNES'
Fire Proof Safes.
CHICAGO, January 25, 1872.
Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.:
GENTS—One of your No. 8 Safes, purchased by us a few years since of Messrs. Hall, Kimbark & Co., was in our store during the great fire of October 8 and 9, 1871. We think our books and papers were preserved as well, and perhaps better, than the average of books held in safes of other manufacture.
Yours Respectfully,
S. J. SURDAM & CO.
OFFICE OF COOLEY & DWIGHT,
Commission Merchants,
No. 58 S. Canal street,
CHICAGO, November 1, 1871.
Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.:
GENTS—We take pleasure in adding our testimony to the valuable fire-proof qualities of your Safes. We had used one (No. 10) about seven years, and during the recent disastrous conflagration in our city, it contained our books, papers, and a large amount of money and valuable collaterals, which we found, upon opening, in a very good state of preservation. The damage to our papers was but trifling. The binding of our books, in most cases, broke off when removed, but several of them have been rebound and are now in daily use. The currency and vouchers in the small wooden drawers were scarcely injured, and we had no difficulty in using them. Our office was located in the Chamber of Commerce, one of the largest buildings burned, and owing to the intensity of the heat, and all supply of water being cut off, by the destruction of the City Water Works, we were obliged to defer removing it from the ruins for three days, and then it was taken from a deep bed of burning material. We deem the trial sufficient to satisfy any one in regard to its fire-proof qualities.
Respectfully, Yours, COOLEY & DWIGHT.
